Millions Cheer Duke and Scotch Bride

COMMONER IN ROYAL FAMILY

Bride Now Fourth In Rank Among Women of British House

SHOWERS FAIL TO DRIVE AWAY CROWD

Westminster Abbey Setting for Wedding of Popular Couple

LONDON, April 26.—The Duke of York and Lady Elizabeth Bowes-Lyon were married at noon today in Westminster Abbey.

While the great bells of Parliament Square pealed the nation's joy at the union and millions set up a thunder of cheers, the modest Scotch lassie, who had entered the Abbey a commoner emerged Cinderella-like on the arm of her smiling husband, fourth lady of all England.

At the wedding breakfast at the palace following the ceremony, King George dubbed the bride "your royal highness," and Lady Elizabeth became next in rank to Queen Mary, Queen Alexandra and the Princess Mary.

The great day dawned raw and misty, intermittent showers drenching the hundreds of thousands who had taken up positions of vantage in parliament square, along the wedding route. But undismayed, at an hour-long wait before royalty or the nobility that played its more intimate part in the ceremony, began to appear, the people sang songs and warmed themselves with flares. It was a British holiday.

At exactly eight minutes past ten the big gates before the palace swung open and the king and queen, accompanied by Prince George, still a younger son than the Duke, drove out in a glittering glass coach, designed that all might see them. Queen Mary sat proudly erect, bowing and smiling in response to the cheers.

Bridgegroom Nervous. Five minutes later the crowd saw the bridegroom, tight-lipped and smiling somewhat nervously, with heightened color, drive from the gates, his brother, the Prince of Wales, grinning broadly at his side. An escort of clattering, red-trousered hussars surrounded the gilt coach in which the prince rode.

Then came Lady Elizabeth with her father, the Earl of Strathmore, from their home on Bruton street. The blushing, pretty Scotch girl in her gorgeous wedding gown of royal lace, was more confused than she might have been when she found she was to ride in a resplendent state coach of gold and crimson. Being a commoner before the ceremony it had been planned for her to come to the abbey in a simple carriage, but King George, carry out the Cinderella tradition, sent the magnificent equipage destined only for royalty.

Flashes Brave Smile. Appearing somewhat nervous, Lady Elizabeth shrank into a corner of the coach and held her father's hand tightly as the carriage approached the abbey. But she managed a brave smile and many friendly nods as she stepped from the coach and entered the church.

The ceremony was brief. It followed the church of England ritual and Lady Elizabeth promised to "love, honor and obey."

The archbishop of York performed the ceremony and in a brief address to the wedding couple on what he termed "the crowning day of your lives" said solemnly:

"Before this host of witnesses you have offered your love to one another and to God. You have received from him at this altar new life in which your separate lives are from now until death made one."

Ceremony Is Brief. The wedding ceremony which began at 11:30 was over shortly after noon. The king and queen

"Other Woman" and Wife In Love Case Now Close Friends

WOMAN TELLS THRILL OF RETURN TO LIFE

Here is one of those "other woman" stories that is not following the usual program. J. A. Vanderloan of St. Paul deserted his wife, Mrs. Rose Vanderloan, shown above on the left, several months ago and went to Chicago where he met Miss Elna Kinnan, (right). Vanderloan and Miss Kinnan went into a Chicago restaurant one night and Mrs. Vanderloan came to wait on them. Miss Kinnan fainted when she learned Vanderloan had a wife. Vanderloan fled but was later captured and is now held in jail. The two women became close friends and are now living together. They are willing to allow Vanderloan go unpunished.

DENIES CLARA PRISONER IN HONDURAS

LOS ANGELES, April 26.—The grand jury today refused to indict Jesse Carson, companion of the woman supposed to be Clara Phillips on a charge of arson unless more evidence is presented against him. Deputy District Atty. Clark said that an effort will be made to obtain further concrete evidence to present to the grand jury in the arson case. Secretary of State Hughes today wired Sheriff Traeger that the state department will not ask for Carson's extradition unless indictments have been returned.

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras, April 26.—The complete story of the woman held in jail here as Clara Phillips, the "hammer slayer" of Los Angeles, was told today by Jesse Carson, who claims to be her husband.

In his cell at the national penitentiary, Carson in an interview offered proof of the innocence of himself, his wife and the Mrs. R. M. Young who are being held for United States authorities. "I know nothing of Clara Phillips," he said earnestly.

Suspect Offers Proof. Carson admitted that he knew little of his wife's sister, Mrs. Young, "except that she lived in Poughkeepsie, N. Y." (Previous dispatches indicated Mrs. Young also was suspected of being Clara Phillips.)

He said he had complete documents in his trunk to prove the identity of all of them.

The striking resemblance of Carson to the description of a man wanted in Los Angeles was clearly noted. He has reddish curly hair. There is also a whitened scar on his left cheek. He has the little mannerisms described in cable dispatches from Los Angeles police.

"I am innocent of the crimes of which they accuse me," the supposed husband of the "tigress" declared.

Robbers Force Victim to Leave Bed and Reveal Hiding Place of $2000 Gems.

VENICE, Calif., April 26.—Noiselessly forcing their way through the front door, two bands surprised Mrs. Ruth Dennis in bed early this morning and by frightening her into hysteria forced her to disclose the hiding place of two diamond rings valued at $2,000.

Mrs. Dennis was then marched back to her bed and ordered to stay in it until the robbers made good their escape. Police were notified.

CREW ABANDONS SHIP ASHORE AT COOS BAY

(By United Press Leased Wire)

SAN FRANCISCO, April 26.—Captain and crew abandoned the freighter Brush, which ran ashore early today at Point Arago on the Oregon coast, at 9:40 a. m., according to a radiogram to the Radio Corporation of America here.

Last reports were that the vessel was in momentary danger of breaking up.

The North Head wireless station reported that at 9 o'clock this morning the life saving crew from the Coos Bay harbor had reached the freighter.

The steamer Eureka which was in the vicinity, reported that the Brush was "hard and fast" on the beach at daylight and "probably will break up soon."

The Brush is heavily loaded with lumber and freight. She sailed from Seattle April 19 for San Francisco.

She is owned by the Pacific Steamship company.

BUDGET FORCES HIT NEW SNAG IN ASSEMBLY

(By United Press Leased Wire)

SACRAMENTO, April 26.—Following a fruitless effort to reach an agreement on a method of approving Governor Richardson's economy budget, the warfare in the assembly was expected to break out with renewed vigor today.

Yesterday and last night four administration men and four leaders of the opposition sought a mutual path along which they could proceed in caring for the recurring appropriations not specifically mentioned in the budget. The committee returned to the assembly chamber late last night and reported an impossible deadlock.

"They are trying to camouflage the people and we are going to fight," was the statement of T. M. Wright, one of the anti-administration chiefs.

Vital Appropriation. "They have refused to take the attorney general's word for this and are using the situation as a political capital," declared Floor Leader Henry Carter.

The recurrent appropriation issue is vital to the budget amendment. The items include the University of California, orphan aid, flood control, redemption and interest on bonds and other sums for support which the administration holds are covered by additional statutes and should not be included in the budget.

Should these figures have to be placed in the budget it would run the famous $79,000,000 economy document well over $100,000,000, it is declared.

State Controller Ray L. Riley yesterday announced that he would refuse to sign any warrants for money not specifically appropriated in the budget.

Writes "Rider Clause"

Facing this edit, administration leaders hurried to Attorney General Webb, who prepared a "rider clause," which he asserted would meet all legal requirements. This clause was expected to be offered the assembly today for passage.

L. A. BEAUTY VICTIM OF AMNESIA

Temporary Lapse of Memory Leads Girl to Ask Aid of Police

"I had no trouble with my husband. I don't know why I left home. I don't know why I came to Santa Ana, nor when."

With these statements, June Georgantos, pretty copper-haired matron, broke the silence which had mystified authorities and hospital officials since she was picked up wandering dazed and suffering from loss of memory, shortly after noon today.

When city police first noticed her and spoke to her, she would say nothing about herself, except that she was hungry and tired.

She did not know her name, she said, nor where she lived, nor who her relatives were, nor when she came to Santa Ana.

Deputy Sheriff G. E. McClellan took her to the county hospital, where she was placed in the care of a physician.

After a few moments of rest and some nourishment, her memory seemed to return, under the persistent questioning of Miss N. M. Conklin, superintendent, and she told, in a hesitating but willing manner, what she knew of herself.

Tried to Find Work. "I'm married," she answered. "My husband is William Georgantos, of Ocean Park. He is a railroad employee. We had no trouble and are not separated."

Then hesitatingly, almost painfully, with a worried knitting of her brow, as if to wipe away the web which beclouded her mind, the girl answered further questions about herself.

She had started out to find work, she said. For several days she had walked the streets of Los Angeles, unsuccessful in her search.

"Then I came to Santa Ana," she said. "I think it was today, but I don't remember how I got here. I was trying to find work, but I was so tired and so hungry. I'm not sick, I'm just tired."

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Wigg, live at Watts, she said, with a brother, whose name she could not remember.

As the girl was questioned, she displayed no effort to avoid answering the questions, but rather a sincere attempt to remember.

Neatly Dressed. Her clothes, while not expensive, were tastefully chosen, and new in mode.

Lustrous brown eyes looked inquiringly at the superintendent and the newspaper man as the questions were propounded, and the lids narrowed pensively as her memory faded.

She will be kept at the hospital until relatives call for her, or until her memory returns completely, and her strength is recovered, Miss Conklin said.

"She is probably suffering from a temporary amnesia," the superintendent stated, "and will doubtless recover with rest and care."

GRIM REAPER CHEATED BY SCIENCE

Adrenalin Injection Revives Mother of 16 Given Up as Dead

BY THOMAS W. INGOLDSBY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
(Copyright, 1923, by United Press)
OMAHA, Neb., April 26.—A graphic account of how it feels to die and then awaken again in the flesh and blood instead of the spirit world, was given today by a woman, restored to life by science.

Mrs. Rafaela Mercurio, 58, was restored to life after entering the shadows of death, by use of adrenalin, injected into her heart by Dr. W. A. Gerrie, when one physician had given her up as dead. Her body was purple. She gave no outward signs of breathing or heart action. Prayers for the dead were in progress in her bed chamber.

She had resigned herself to death, resolving to die "beautifully" and became confused and puzzled upon regaining consciousness when the powerful gland extract started her heart beating again and sent blood pulsing through her arteries.

Mother of Sixteen. Mrs. Mercurio, wife of a well-to-do Italian, is the mother of sixteen children. She has ten grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

"I could feel death pulling me," she said. "I was slipping. I tried to find something to hold to but could not. I felt far away and alone, yet it seemed there was something I must do before I slipped entirely away."

"Yes, yes, that was it. I had just a few minutes. I must straighten out in bed. I must cross my hands on my breast. I must smile. My children must know that I died peacefully. So I straightened myself, settled flat on my back and folded my hands, prepared for the end."

Ready For Death. "Then there seemed to come to me the comforting words of a priest. They added to my peace and contentment. I was ready for death. I smiled. I think, I know I wanted to. It was the last thing I remember."

For ten days after the first injection of adrenalin, April 13, Mrs. Mercurio was in a semi-conscious condition. She mumbled intelligible words at times and often lapsed into a state of coma.

"During that time I felt like a chunk of wood," the patient explained today.

"My son, who nursed me at night accidentally burned my body twice, yet I felt no pain. Once he placed an iron at my feet. He did not realize it was too hot until upon removing it he found a deeply burned outline. Again, a hot water bottle placed on my stomach scorched the flesh. But I was like a chunk of wood and felt nothing."

Good To Be Alive. Full consciousness was restored to Mrs. Mercurio at 4 o'clock Tuesday morning, April 24.

"I will never forget that hour," she declared with a happy shrug of the shoulders.

"It was the first time I had noticed the clock. It struck four times. Until then I had forgotten all about time. But somehow that old clock made me realize I was a real human being in a very real world."

"It was almost a shock to me and a very delightful one."

Mrs. Mercurio glanced affectionately at her frolicking great-grandchildren on the floor.

"It is so good to be alive," she murmured contentedly.

Entry List for Junk Auto Races to Close Friday, 5 p. m.

Entry lists for the American Legion Auto Resurrection Day will close tomorrow at 5 p. m., according to an announcement made today by the committee in charge of the racing program.

At noon today seventeen cars were officially entered for the speed contests and indications were the list would contain the names of approximately thirty cars at closing time.

Aspirants for honors and the cash prizes to be offered the winners are urged to get their entries in by that time as no entries will be accepted after 5 p. m. Friday.

All entrants for the races are requested to appear at the Legion hall, South Birch street, Saturday at 9 a. m. for a photograph.

Secretary of Treasury Launches Campaign to Clean Up Prohibition Bureau.

WASHINGTON, April 26.—Secretary of the Treasury Mellon today ordered a sweeping investigation of alleged grafting and corruption among prohibition enforcement agents.

New evidence has been laid before Mellon, and he has turned it over to Internal Revenue Commissioner Blair, with order to act promptly.

Alleged pregruities by agents in New York, Philadelphia and Boston will be first gone into.

FEAR 300 LOST IN MAIL SHIP DISASTER

(By United Press Leased Wire)

UNION, April 26.—The entire passenger list and crew of the Portuguese mail boat Mossamedes, which went aground on Cape Frio in Africa, is missing in life boats, according to a Lloyds dispatch today.

There was no sign of life on board, the dispatch said, and it is feared the passengers and crew were lost.

There were between 200 and 300 persons on board the Mossamedes.

SEEK SUBSTITUTE TO SIT FOR JUDGE WEST

Court officials were today making every effort to secure the appointment of a superior judge to sit in department No. 1 during the illness of Superior Judge Z. B. West, who will probably be confined to his home for some time yet.

Because of the magnitude of the business coming before the courts, Judge R. Y. Williams, who had been attending to both courts, has found himself unable to keep up with the work, it was stated, and the appointment of a substitute judge was considered imperative.

Indiana Solon Confers With President On Proposed Speech

(By United Press Leased Wire)

WASHINGTON, April 26.—Republican foes of President Harding's world court plan will reply to the challenge, flung at them in his New York speech.

Their spokesman will be Senator Watson of Indiana, one of those most disturbed over Mr. Harding's advocacy of American membership in the court. Watson will voice the answer of the Republican malcontents in a speech before the American club, a Republican organization in Pittsburgh, tomorrow night.

Watson and Senator Lodge went over the reply to Mr. Harding today. Watson, who disavowed any intention of "getting mad" at Mr. Harding, personally or politically, over the issue, also showed his speech to the president at the White House.

"I am going to jump all over the League of Nations," Watson replied when asked to indicate the nature of his reply to the president. "I am dead set against the league."

Watson, a past-master at evading questioners, refused to be pinned down on the court issue or to "tip the hand" of the anti-court group.

Lodge, meanwhile, kept silent, and his silence confirmed the belief that he would not dare come out against the court in the face of Mr. Harding's speech. There was no indication when Lodge intended to break his silence. He has not commented in any way on the Harding speech nor announced how he stands on the court proposal as it was submitted to the senate.

FRESNO GREET 100,000 AT FESTIVAL

(By United Press Leased Wire)

FRESNO, Calif., April 26.—More than 100,000 persons from San Francisco to Los Angeles and from Taft to Ranadburg are taking part today in the fifteenth day celebration and fiftieth anniversary of the planting of the first grape vine in the state.

At the first sign of dawn the floats constructed in the city and those brought into Fresno from outside communities were drawn into the parade formation zones.

The parade, consisting of twenty-three divisions, twenty-one bands, a special drum corps, a half of a score of elementary and high school chorus floats, companies of high school cadets and Boy Scout troops from various sections of the San Joaquin valley, numerous marching contingents and decorated automobiles and forty floats, started at 10 a. m. It was witnessed by one of the largest crowds ever assembled in this city for the annual celebration.

Tommy Milton failed to gain a place in the elimination trials with his 122 inch machine and there will be no competition between this new type and the 103 inch model, as expected with the receipt of the entry.

Dances in nearly every hall in the city tonight, including a street carnival and a ball at a local hotel for the royal couple, will conclude the celebration.

"30" BULLETIN

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, April 26.—A. C. Watson today claimed the world's non-stop dancing record when he passed the mark of 109 hours and 45 minutes, claimed by a Washington enthusiast. Watson, who started out Saturday night at 7:30 o'clock, continued dancing, declaring he intended to go until noon.

BIG THROUG CHEERS DUKE, SCOTCH BRIDE

returned directly to the palace to prepare for the wedding breakfast, over which Queen Mary took a personal, motherly charge.
During all the ceremony, with and without the Abbey, the duke and his bride were calm and composed in a veritable royal dignity. When the bridal procession went down the aisle, the choir singing "Lead Us, Heavenly Father, Lead Us," the wedding couple moved easily into their places.
At his brother's side, the Prince of Wales, looked distinctly bored. The reception accorded the couple in general throughout the city exceeded even that given Princess Mary when she was married last year.

H. S. DEPARTMENT TO SHOW WORK TONIGHT

Pupils at the Santa Ana high school spent the last two periods of today's session in visiting the mechanical arts department and viewing the work of the shop classes, this being the first incident of the open shop display scheduled for tonight.
Hundreds of parents in the city today were making plans to visit the shops on invitation of the instructors. Classes in mechanical drawing, woodwork, machine and forge work and automobile repair will be held tonight from 7:30 to 9:30 o'clock in demonstrating their efficiency in their respective lines.
This is offered as a special opportunity for parents and patrons of the city schools to visit the shops and see what is being done and how the students are being trained in the several shops.

SUGAR MILL ON S. MAIN BEING DISMANTLED

The dismantling of the sugar mill on South Main street, owned by the Southern California Sugar company, a subsidiary of the Holly Sugar corporation, is in progress and will continue until all of the machinery is removed, it was revealed here today by C. A. Johnson, manager of the Orange county beet sugar interests of the Holly corporation.
At the same time, Johnson made it known that steps have been taken for construction at the Dyer plant at Delhi of a cooling tower which will be effective in eliminating much of the stench that in past operating seasons has been the source of much complaint from residents south of the city.
Parts of the plant on South Main have been removed to other factories of the company, some of the machinery to the mill at Delta, Utah. Johnson said removal would continue as rapidly as the company could find places for it other places or as sale developed.
Building For Sale
The factory building is being offered for sale. According to Johnson, there has been some inquiry as to its adaptability to manufacturing. Nothing of a definite character has been presented to the company.
Installation of a pipe line service to convey natural gas from the oil fields at Huntington Beach to the local plant is under way. According to report, arrangements have been made whereby the company delivers gas into the main lines of the Southern Counties Gas company at Huntington Beach, with a duplicate amount being delivered to the company here under a stipulated pipe charge for the service of delivery.
According to Claude L. Killen, superintendent of the beet sugar mill at Dyer, the company already has placed an order for the material required for the cooling tower. It is estimated the installation will cost between $10,000 and $15,000.

FORECAST NEW INCREASES IN SUGAR PRICE

The advance of 65 cents a hundred pounds of sugar made Tuesday and Wednesday is not the end of ascending prices on this commodity, was the opinion of Marshall Keeler, manager of the Smart-Final Wholesale grocery company here, expressed today.
The sweet stuff took a jump of 25 cents a hundred Tuesday and was followed yesterday by another raise of 40 cents, whole sugar, f. o. b. San Francisco. The latter increase became effective today. Today's wholesale quotation here was $10.93 for beet and $11.13 for cane.
"I look for another increase within a week," said the manager.
He based his prediction on history and the fact that there is a shortage of 415,000 tons of cane sugar in the Cuban fields. According to Keeler, there is that shortage between the actual production and the estimated tonnage at the opening of the harvesting season for Cuban sugar.
Incidentally, the manager said that wholesalers cannot buy beet sugar at this time, and are getting no deliveries except in fulfillment of contracts made prior to the time when prices began to soar.
"Cane sugar rules prices, and, in my opinion, holders of beet sugar are holding their stock in anticipation of prices going still higher," Keeler continued.
He predicted that prices will not start on the downward trend before next September or October, or about the time beet sugar is ready for market.
"The belief exists among many beet growers that low prices when beet sugar is placed on the market at the opening of the selling season are the result of organized effort to force down quotations and beat the farmers out of profits they feel that are due them," Keeler said, in discussing marketing condition. "My acquaintance with marketing conditions has convinced me that this is not true. It is rather the result of beet sugar being offered when the market on cane sugar is closing. As between cane sugar seasons in Cuba and beet sugar seasons here, each operates at a different period of the year."
"The Cuban crop is harvested in January and February, while the beet sugar product here goes on the market in September and October. The period of low prices always is before and during the harvesting season for cane. Speculation is not as keen then as after the harvest—and the beet grower and beet sugar manufacturer is the loser."

RICHARDSON VETOES SCHOOL FUND BILL

SACRAMENTO, Calif., April 26.—Governor Richardson today vetoed S. B. 443, Sharkey, on the grounds it is "cunningly devised to prevent county and local school authorities from economizing."
"While on its face it looks like an attempt to reduce county allowances, it is really a cunningly devised plan to force the counties to spend $30 a pupil, in addition to the state's $30, regardless of whether it is needed or not. This bill is sponsored by the superintendent of public instruction and is in line with his policy of piling the tax load upon the people," the governor declared.
The flow from the plant will be conveyed to the ranch in pipes and the Irvine company will take care of the surplus in such manner as virtually to eliminate the conditions of the past.

FLORAL PARADE FOR CHILDREN PLANNED

Entries for the Children's Annual Floral parade, to be held at Ocean Park May 6, have begun coming in and Mrs. Earl Fraser, who has charge of the event, predicts that there will be more than 500 children in the line of march this year. Even before the date was announced to the public, Mrs. Fraser had a large entry list, and since that time she has found it necessary to open an office in the Fraser building at Ocean Park to take care of the people who desire to make entries or get information regarding the parade.
This event has become so popular throughout Southern California that it has been decided to widen the field of operation, and invitations have been sent out to civic and business organizations.
No remedy can cure all ailments of the human body, but an immense number of people suffer from aches, pains and diseases when their real trouble is lack of iron in the blood. It is the iron in your blood that enables you to get the nourishment out of your food. Without iron your food merely passes through you without doing you any good; you don't get the strength out of it. There is one universally known tonic that has helped thousands because it contains iron like the iron in fresh vegetables and like the iron in your blood.

HARDING WIRES THANKS FOR INVITATION

President Warren G. Harding, through his secretary, George B. Christian Jr., sent his thanks to S. H. Finley, president of the Santa Ana Y. M. C. A., for the invitation to officiate at the laying of the cornerstone of the $250,000 Y. M. C. A. now under construction here, in a letter received here today from the Office of the President at Washington, D. C.
"The President greatly appreciates the invitation which you extend to him in your telegram of April 20," Secretary Christian wrote.
Colonel Finley's wire to the chief executive said:
"We are constructing $250,000 Y. M. C. A. building at Santa Ana and would be pleased and honored to have you participate in cornerstone laying during contemplated trip West. The day and hour can be arranged to suit your convenience."
C. C. Chapman of Fullerton, president of the state executive committee of the Y. M. C. A., also addressed a similar wire to Washington. Mrs. E. E. Remsburg, of Santa Ana, sister of the President, added her influence to the invitation.
Additional weight also was given by J. C. Metzgar, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, who wired to the President to include Santa Ana in the itinerary of the Presidential trip West.
In his reply to Finley, the President's secretary wrote:
"My Dear Mr. Finley:
"The President greatly appreciates the invitation which you extend to him in your telegram of April 20. While he has as yet made no arrangements in connection with a possible visit to the Pacific Coast, he will be glad to keep your wishes in mind should he conclude to make such a trip.
"With cordial thanks in the President's behalf for your courtesy, I am,
"Sincerely yours,
"George B. Christian Jr.,
"Secretary to the President."

PARK COMMISSION TO MEET TOMORROW

Organization of the new park commission recently appointed by the city council probably will be in order tomorrow when the commission meets at the home of Mrs. W. L. Grubb, secretary, it was learned here today.
Members of the commission are G. R. Wells, Robert Northcross, Mrs. T. E. Stephenson, Mrs. W. L. Grubb and E. V. S. Pomeroy.
Although the three new members of the commission have not given public expression to their views concerning the duties of the body, it was understood that every reasonable effort would be made to have the city council invest the commission with power to bring about necessary changes and improvements in the city parks.
"One of the things that handicapped the old commission," said George W. Minter, retiring member of the commission, "was the failure of the city to endow the park commission with the power to do things. There are many improvements that should be made without delay, and I hope the commission will have authority to take the proper action."
In this connection it was explained that the commission, backed up by the necessary city ordinances, should be given power to carry out its functions, with the trees of the city coming under the jurisdiction of the commission.

NEWS BRIEFS

All who ever lived in New Jersey are called to meet under the auspices of the New Jersey association of Southern California for a picnic reunion, all day Saturday,
May 5, at Sycamore Grove park,
Los Angeles.

F. A. Foote, former general salesman in this district for the Standard Oil company, and for the past three years representing the company in San Francisco, Sacramento and Seattle, was in Santa Ana today renewing the acquaintance of old friends. He has been returned to Los Angeles to become superintendent of service stations in Southern California.

Looking toward adjustment of compensation insurance rates on sprayers, fumigators, pruners and pickers, an insurance agent was working in the county today interviewing orchardists and growers.
Edwin F. Whedon, secretary-manager of the Orange county farm bureau, said that the question has arisen as to the risks of these various occupations. It has been reported that in relation to the risk entailed the insurance rates are not equitable, he said.

H. E. Wahlberg, Orange county farm advisor, went to Los Angeles today to attend a committee meeting planning the citrus institute to be held at Fullerton.

An even 100 building permits have been issued here this month to date for $616,815 in buildings, according to records of W. S.
Decker, building inspector, which showed that 551 permits had been issued this year to date for $1, 835,956.

Greatly improved from the illness with which he had been confined at his residence at 1210 North Ross street here for several weeks, Superior Judge Z. B. West today was convalescing at Elsinore hot springs. Judge West is rapidly regaining his strength but expects to take a month's vacation before returning to the bench here. His son, Franklin, and his niece, Miss Stella Groff, accompanied him to Elsinore.

Girls of the Y. W. C. A. in the junior college here have been granted the concessions at the Southern California track meet to be held here Saturday. The girls will sell popcorn balls, home made candy, soda water, ice cream and peanuts to raise money with which to send delegates to the Asilomar summer conference in August.

Dr. J. C. Lenard of the University of California and now officially in charge of all junior college relations with the university, was expected in Santa Ana today to confer with D. K. Hammond, dean of the college here.

NEW TRIAL OF MAN IN GIRL CASE ON

Featured by almost constant objections from defense attorneys, and consistent overruling by the court, the second trial of E. J.
Ahlers, charged with a serious offense, involving a 17-year-old girl, began in Superior Judge R. Y.
Williams' court today.

Once before Ahlers faced a jury, who convicted him after brief deliberation. Probation was denied him, but in a hearing held in the sick room of Superior Judge Z. B.
West, a new trial was granted.

The father and mother of the girl involved, and the girl herself had testified today. The girl told substantially the same story that she told in justice court and at the first trial—how she, another child, and Ahlers and Gerald Peabody, who is now at the Preston School of Industry at Lone, as a result of the incident, had gone to a point below San Juan Capistrano on an assorted joy ride.

Attorney S. B. Kauffman and Roland Thompson, representing the defendant, objected frequently to questions asked by Deputy District Attorney C. N. Mozley.

Ine Wilson, Edna Juden, Pauline Carnahan, Eva Turin and Margaret Humphrey and Elliott and Everett Best, Carl Black, Paul

FORENSICS TO BEGIN MAY 1 IN COUNTY

Always the biggest academic event of the year is the annual county high school forensic contest, preliminaries for which will begin this year, May 1.

The high schools of the county have been divided into two groups for the purpose of facilitating the preliminary tryouts. Group one includes Anaheim, Fullerton, Garden Grove and Huntington Beach, and group two includes San Juan Capistrano, Orange, Santa Ana and Tus-tin.

The preliminary contests are again divided into groups according to the classes competing, and the type of selection used in each class: senior oration, junior essay, sophomore declamation and freshman reading.

Announce Awards
Prizes have been offered by Orange county persons as follows:
School medal, William and Flora Starbuck of Fullerton; Senior medal, Anaheim National bank, Anaheim; Junior medal, C. C.
Chapman, Fullerton; Sophomore medal, S. H. Finley, Santa Ana, and Freshman medal, J. W. Newell, Fullerton.

Entrants for the contest from the Santa Ana high school have been chosen in school tryouts. Miss Alice Richards will read her junior essay, entitled, "Winter." Miss Helen Smith will enter the sophomore declamation contest. The senior oration representative has not been chosen. Miss Margaret Gabey of the junior high school will take part in the freshman reading contest.

Tryouts at the junior high school yesterday were said to be the most enthusiastic contests of the kind ever held in the city schools.
Twenty-five entrants competed for the honor of representing the class in the county contest and according to J. E. Jackson, head of the English department at the high school, the dramatic and forensic talent at the junior high school is of an unusually high type of students of that age.

Final Contest May 11
The final contest will be held in the Santa Ana high school auditorium, May 11 at 8 o'clock p. m. D.
K. Hammond, principal, will preside and will also name the judges for the contest. There will be two entrants for each group in the finals.

The schedules for the preliminaries follows:
May 1, Junior essays—At Fullerton at 10:30; at Anaheim at 2:00;
at Capistrano at 10:30; at Tustin at 2:00.
May 2, Junior essays—At Garden Grove at 10:30; at Huntington Beach at 2:00; at Orange at 10:30;

'PISTOLETTE' WOUND GIVEN MAN WHO TRIED TO PILFER HIS OWN WIFE PEEVES HIM

Victorio Rozales, Delhi, tried to steal his own wife last night. Today he was in the county hospital, suffering from a minor bullet wound between the shoulders while Juan Valenzuela, his brother-in-law was under technical arrest pending an investigation of the shooting.

Eva Rozales, wife of the man who was shot, had left her husband some time ago, and gone to live with her brothers, Juan and Carlos Valenzuela at Delhi.

About 2 a. m. today, Rozales, foiled hitherto in all his attempts to re-woo his wife, attempted a cave-man-like conquest, according to the wife. He crawled through the window of the house in which she was sleeping, and was making preparations to spirit her away, when Juan saw him.

Shot is fired. A shot was fired, striking Rozales between the shoulder blades. The shooting evidently angered him, for it required three men to hold him, while Juan went to Santa Ana to summon officers, the brothers said.

Sheriff Sam Jernigan, Under Sheriff French, Deputies G. E. McClellan and Jesse Elliott, and Patrolman Scott Wilson responded.

They found the wounded man struggling manfully to escape from his captors and carry out his original intention of stealing his wife, they said.

Rozales was taken to the hospital, where, for fear of infection, the wound was dressed.

Today Juan was brought to the district attorney's office, where he was questioned.

Asked to produce the death-dealing weapon, Juan complied. It is a .22 caliber, blue steel revolver, measuring in all about three inches. The barrel was about three-fourths of an inch long, while the grips, the largest part of the weapon, were nevertheless scarcely large enough to grasp. A "pistolete," District Attorney A. P. Nelson called it.

Juan will probably undergo a preliminary examination on charges of assault with intent to murder. Members of the prosecutor's staff declined to issue a warrant for his arrest on a charge of assault with a "deadly" weapon, claiming that the gun could not be so classed.

Officers attempted to secure a warrant for Rozales' arrest on a burglary charge, but Deputy District Attorney C. N. Mosley gave the opinion that attempting to steal one's own wife was not even petit larceny, and that evidence of larceny of some sort must be contained in a burglary charge.

He will probably be accused of malicious trespass, it was said.

STEAL SAFE. KANSAS CITY, April 25. — A safe containing about $17,000 in checks and $10,000 in cash was taken by bandits here from a truck of the American Express company.

The bandits fired several shots before escaping in an automobile, but no one was wounded. They did not attempt to open the safe, but took it with them.

LAUDS GRAVE FUND. INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., April 26. — The American Legion's appeal for contributions to a $200,000 endowment fund to provide for the annual decoration of the graves of overseas dead was characterized as one from which no American could turn aside by James L. Feizer, national vice chairman of the American Red Cross, who recently visited Legion national headquarters in Indianapolis.

Eight weeks' employment for 1000 men was recently provided by the "spring-clean" of the Aquitania.

AMUSEMENT COMPANY SUE OVER ALLEGED CAFE PROPERTY SALE. Claiming that the defendants disposed of his property, in the Marine cafe at Balboa, and then failed to pay him for it, J. E. Champion today brought suit for $1500 in superior court here against the Balboa Beach Amusement company, and Ward McFadden, John Dos Burrie and John R. Lugo.

The plaintiff was owner of the property, which was converted into cash by the defendants, he said. They never paid him any part of what they received for it, he claimed.

Attorney Ernest B. Coil represented the plaintiff in the suit.

CANADIANS BOUND OVER IN BURGLARY. Nelson Cheney and Roy Webb, Canadian youths, arrested by city police several weeks ago, were back in the county jail again today, after they were given a preliminary hearing on burglary charges for which they were held to answer yesterday by Justice J. B. Cox.

After hearing evidence which connected them with the burglary of a second hand store here, the court ordered them held under $1,000 bail each, which they were unable to supply.

The lads were arrested when a West Fourth street storekeeper told police that they planned to hold him up. Several guns, identified as those stolen from the second hand store, police said, were found on the boys and in their room.

ISSUE S. O. S. CALL FOR ACTORS AS 14 PARTS ARE UNFILLED. Have you histrionic ability? Do you possess a desire to accomplish something behind the footlights? Then here's your chance.

Fourteen parts in "The Country Cousin," to be produced here next month by the Santa Ana Community Players, still remain unfilled, according to Ernest Crozier Phillips, director.

These must be selected at once, Phillips said, in order that rehearsals may begin soon.

Tryouts will be held at 7:30 o'clock tonight in the art room at the junior high school on North Main street.

POLY FOLK SPEED PLANS FOR CIRCUS

Poly circus plans are getting bigger every day.

Details of some of the side shows that will feature the school classic May 18 were made public today.

The "Revival of King Tut," "Horrors of Hades," "The Underworld of Paris," "Freaks a Specialty," an Orpheo troupe road show, "Grand Opera Up-to-Date," "T. N. T.," a faculty show which is a deep dark secret, but is guaranteed to be a knockout, balloons, confetti, a big continuous show in the auditorium, "hot dogs," pink lemonade, beautiful girls and more beautiful clowns, are just a few of the ingredients Poly planners are mixing in their circus arrangements.

LAUDS GRAVE FUND. INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., April 26. — The American Legion's appeal for contributions to a $200,000 endowment fund to provide for the annual decoration of the graves of overseas dead was characterized as one from which no American could turn aside by James L. Feizer, national vice chairman of the American Red Cross, who recently visited Legion national headquarters in Indianapolis.

Eight weeks' employment for 1000 men was recently provided by the "spring-clean" of the Aquitania.

AMUSEMENT COMPANY SUE OVER ALLEGED CAFE PROPERTY SALE. Claiming that the defendants disposed of his property, in the Marine cafe at Balboa, and then failed to pay him for it, J. E. Champion today brought suit for $1500 in superior court here against the Balboa Beach Amusement company, and Ward McFadden, John Dos Burrie and John R. Lugo.

The plaintiff was owner of the property, which was converted into cash by the defendants, he said. They never paid him any part of what they received for it, he claimed.

Attorney Ernest B. Coil represented the plaintiff in the suit.

CANADIANS BOUND OVER IN BURGLARY. Nelson Cheney and Roy Webb, Canadian youths, arrested by city police several weeks ago, were back in the county jail again today, after they were given a preliminary hearing on burglary charges for which they were held to answer yesterday by Justice J. B. Cox.

After hearing evidence which connected them with the burglary of a second hand store here, the court ordered them held under $1,000 bail each, which they were unable to supply.

The lads were arrested when a West Fourth street storekeeper told police that they planned to hold him up. Several guns, identified as those stolen from the second hand store, police said, were found on the boys and in their room.

ISSUE S. O. S. CALL FOR ACTORS AS 14 PARTS ARE UNFILLED. Have you histrionic ability? Do you possess a desire to accomplish something behind the footlights? Then here's your chance.

Fourteen parts in "The Country Cousin," to be produced here next month by the Santa Ana Community Players, still remain unfilled, according to Ernest Crozier Phillips, director.

These must be selected at once, Phillips said, in order that rehearsals may begin soon.

Tryouts will be held at 7:30 o'clock tonight in the art room at the junior high school on North Main street.

Ebell Society To Offer Program On Peace Promotion

In presenting G. Bromley Ox-man, head of the "Church of All Nations" in Los Angeles, as speaker at their open meeting on Monday, April 30 at 2:30 p. m., members of the Ebell society will continue their efforts in aiding the world peace movement.

Dr. Oxman's appearance is being made through arrangement with the educational committee of the society, with Mrs. R. G. Tutill as chairman. While he has not yet announced his subject, it is understood that the theme of his address will be international relations and the promotion of peace.

Ere appearing at the Temple theater under the auspices of Ebell, the eminent speaker will address the student body of the high school in the auditorium at 2:30, planning to reach the theater just at the close of the club's business session.

Since the meeting is an open one with those interested in the movement urged to be present, the club has extended special invitations to different civic bodies, including Lions, Rotary and Kiwanis clubs, Business and Professional Women's club, American Legion, Ministerial association, Sedgwick Post, G. A. R. and others, to be present as honored guests.

May Day Breakfast To Be Unique Event

Is your breakfast the so-called continental one, of grape-fruit, rolls and coffee?

Or do you prefer the more substantial one of hot cakes, bacon and eggs of our own west coast, or the golden waffles, rich syrup and amber coffee of the old South?

Or even the time-hallowed New England breakfast food of "raisin-apple-mince-pumpkin-custard and cocoanut cream pie?"

Whatever your choice, if you will tell the hospitable matrons of the First Presbyterian church's Ladies' Aid society, they will provide it for you at their unique May Day breakfast, to be presented May 1 from 6:30 to 9 a. m. in the basement dining-room of the church.

There are hours to suit the breakfast time of average families of the entire city, the society will provide a wide variety of breakfast menus to suit the most capricious, early morning fancy and hope for co-operation from their friends to make the cleverly concocted affair a success.

Many little informal breakfast parties are being planned by hostesses who see an opportunity to entertain in a new and original manner. These are making their table reservations for certain hours, by telephoning the society president, Mrs. G. B. Darnell at 774-J.

Sedgwick Social Club

One of the events on tomorrow's program of the Sedgwick Social club at G. A. R. hall will be the talk at 1:30 by Colonel Matthews, a veteran of the Civil war who is now sojourning at St. Ann's Inn.

Colonel Matthews wears no merely honorary title, but one gained through actual, hard service during the great engagements of the war. It is with great interest that the members of the club and all the veterans of Sedgwick post, anticipate his address.

Missionary Society

Interesting reviews of the book,
"The Trend of the Races," were given yesterday at the all-day meeting of the Woman's Missionary society of the First Presbyterian church by Mrs. J. N. Osborn, Mrs.
J. R. Medlock and Mrs. C. F.
Smith.

The morning session opened with devotionals led by Mrs. C. B. Buxton, and was followed by a noon luncheon with an enjoyable social hour.

Mrs. H. A. Allen, society president, led the afternoon devotionals after which a round table offered many matters of interest, with Mrs.
C. B. Culver, Mrs. E. P. Stafford,
Mrs. E. M. Smiley, Mrs. Mayfield and Mrs. Anna Mitchell leading in the discussions.

The book, "The Trend of the Races," deals largely with work of the church among the negroes and is proving highly interesting to the various missionary societies making it a part of their study.

Dance Revue to Offer Premiere Danseuse Of Girls' School

With little dancing maids like little dancing flowers, the third annual recital of the pupils of Mabel Rockwell School of Dancing will be presented Monday night, April 30 at the Temple theater, it was today announced.

Directed by Mrs. Maude Putnam, the children will dance to the musical background furnished by Mrs. Edith Androus. The program will have two divisions,
"The Melting Pot" and "On a Summer Day" together with solo dancing by various of the young pupils.

In the opening number, "The Melting Pot," the Misses Isabel and Maxine Berg will dance "La Zulgana" followed by Louise Plummer in "Chopin Valse," "Sleep Time" and "Three O'clock in the Morning" will be exemplified with special steps by Dorothy Skinner while "Dance de Mirlitons" will be given by Marguerite Lentz.

Other solo numbers will be presented by Eileen Edmondson, Virginia Lowell, Sallie Coe, Bethel Dickinson and Armine Crawford while small Muriel Bray and Florence Liggett will be clever Dutch dolls.

The Misses Ruby Cameron, Faustina Lucero, Natalie Robinson, Mildred Smith and Katherine
Smith will give an Oriental ballet.
"All on a Summer Day" will present Marguerite Anderson, George Gail Pennock, Helen Brown, Martha Leipsie, Gertrude and Margaret Aves, Louise Plummer and Esther Moody as solo dancers while in the choruses will be Eleanor Edgar, Charlotte Horwitz, Leola Worthington, Aradith Landers, Frances Bergey, Bluma Heirwitz, Barbara Horton, Susan Stewart, Dorothy Gowan, Ida Ballou, Jeanette Crawford, Eleanor Crookshank, Armine Crawford, Betty Smith, Lillian Hierwitz, Vera Getty, Josephine Miller and others.

An outstanding feature will be the appearance of Miss Eleanor Putnam, daughter of Mrs. Maude Putnam, who is achieving much success at Belcher where she was premiere danseuse in special school events.

Miss Putnam will appear as "Crescent Moon" and give a pretty solo dance. Others in the same section of the program will include Miss Elizabeth Roehm, Sallie and Dorothy Coe, Grace Kadam, Bonnell Miller, Freddie Harlan, Frances Bergey, Aline Buck, Vera Getty, Opal Robinson, Neva Fay Gerdes, Velma Jean Jones and many of those giving other numbers.

The story conveyed by the different features, is without exception, a beautiful one and undoubtedly many friends will gather at the Temple theater to see the pretty affair.

Past Matrons

Seated around a table arranged in triangular form, members of the Past Matrons' association of Hermosa chapter, O. E. S., enjoyed a delectable luncheon Tuesday at Masonic temple as guests of Mrs.
Ida E. Dunphy, Mrs. Cora B. Cavins and Mrs. Prince L. Tope.

Centering the triangle formed by the tables, was a colorful mass of Mrs. Charles Russell roses from the West Washington street gardens of Miss Blanche Tiede. The joyous blossoms created much admiring comment as did the very delicious luncheon menu.

Afternoon hours were spent in the pleasant parlors where needlework was produced by the different members and where friendly chat caused the hours to fly.

Mrs. Dunphy, Mrs. Cavins and Mrs. Tope included among their sister members, two special guests Mrs. W. V. White, Hermosa's present worthy matron, and Mrs.
McCloud.

Others enjoying their hospitality were Mesdames Fred Bomboy, Ardinell D. Clayton, F. D. Drake, C.
W. Ellis, A. W. Griffith, Minnie
M. Holmes, R. Hurlburt, J. W. M.
Cormac, J. G. Mitchell, Ella Palmer,
Jennie A. Peek, Fanny Reeves, O.
W. Robbins, William Strassburg, George R. Saffley, Theodore Win-bigler, Frank True, Henry Trueblood, Alice M. Tubbs, Max Reinhaus, and Miss Pauline Reinhaus.

Delphian Society

Continuing their delving into ancient Greek and Roman history, members of the Delphian circle, gathered at the Church of the Messiah for the general session tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock, will listen to a lecture on that topic presented by Miss Jennie Lasby of the astronomy and history department of Santa Ana junior college and high school.

In addition to the lecture, each of the circle's five sections will offer reports of progress.

FRECKLES

Now is the Time to Get Rid of Those Ugly Spots

There's no longer the slightest need of feeling ashamed of your freckles, as Othine—double strength—is guaranteed to remove these homely spots.

Simply get an ounce of Othine—double strength—from any druggist and apply a little of it night and morning and you should soon see that even the worst freckles have begun to disappear, while the lighter ones have vanished entirely. It is seldom that more than an ounce is needed to completely clear the skin and gain a beautiful clear complexion.

Be sure to ask for the double strength Othine as this is sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove freckles.—Adv.

Charming personality Of Opera Singer Locating Here

"Santa Ana's charms as a home community are what influenced me to settle here with my three children," today declared Madame Manuela Budrow, vocalist and composer, who with her two young daughters, Miss Rebecca of the high school, Miss Mary-Eloisa of junior high school and the son of the home, Robert Budrow, also of the high school student body, is now residing in this city.

Madame Budrow, vocalist and composer, has appeared on various musical programs since her arrival and has been greeted with enthusiasm engendered by her charming personality and her truly remarkable voice whose range varies from contralto to dramatic soprano with the flexibility of a coloratura soprano.

Madame Budrow has opened a studio in Room 13 of the Greenleaf building where each Wednesday and Saturday she will receive pupils in the Italian school of singing, correct breathing, interpretation and tone placement.

"In Spain and also in my South American home, I studied under the best teachers the musical world afforded, with grand opera as my goal," stated the singer. "Much of my work was under the mas-tro, Goula whose disappointment was keen when I forsook an operatic career for the quieter one of marriage."

The singer told of her marriage to the late Mr. Budrow, an American engineer in South America, and the happy home life that continued until death separated them and left her with her three young children.

"It was then I turned again to thoughts of a career, not however as an opera singer but as teacher and composer," and her words recalled the fact that Santa Ana's so familiar with the Indian opera
"Ramona" of which she is composer and of many songs they have heard her sing, among them being the dainty "Linda" and the romantic "Serenata" which will be published soon.

An interesting fact in connection with the singer's peculiar resonance of voice, is that it was made the subject of extensive study by the famous Leon who embodied descriptions and pictures of her throat and vocal organs in a book on music.

Household Suggestions

BEFORE SERVING OLIVES

You can make ordinary olives much more delicious if you open the bottle about an hour before you want to use them, pour off the oil. Shake the bottle well. The brine and add a teaspoon of olive briny taste will disappear and they will have a much richer taste.

COVER HANGING GOWNS

Use your worn-out sheets to cover your gowns in your closets.
If you keep the dust from them they will not need to go to the cleaner so often.

CLEAN OIL MOP

Clean your oil mop frequently with hot water, ammonia and a little washing powder.

CRACKER BOXES

The cardboard boxes in which you buy your crackers make excellent polishers for your flat irons since they are coated with wax.

SALT KEPT DRY

Keep your kitchen salt from becoming lumpy by adding cornstarch to it.

FRYING EGGS

Mix about a tablespoon of flour in the grease in which eggs are to be fried and the eggs will not pop while cooking.

Missionary Society

Wednesday, May 2, has been named as the date of the stated monthly all-day meeting of the Woman's society of the First Baptist church in the church parlors.

Industrial work will begin at 10
a. m. and luncheon will be served during a social hour at noon, followed by a business session at 1:30 p. m.

The afternoon's special program will feature a missionary pageant presented by some of the members under the direction of Miss Harriet Owens, dramatic art director and finished pupil of the Cummock School of Expression. Special music numbers will be given also and all interested in mission work are given a cordial invitation to attend.

Massed Poppies In Lovely Effect At Bridge Luncheon

One of the many pleasant springtime affairs which have found harmonious setting in the E. S. Gilbert home on South Main street was that of Tuesday when Mrs. Gilbert and Mrs. J. G. Parsons entertained some sixteen friends at a cleverly planned bridge luncheon.

Centered by massed California poppies, the luncheon tables presented an attractive appearance.
Following the daintily served menu, the guests retired their places for the first hand of bridge. At the conclusion of the afternoon's playing, attractive gift awards were made Mrs. W. A.
Flood and Mrs. Addie Collins, holding first and second scores and Mrs. C. V. Davis, scoring low.

Local Singer Assists On Recital

Appearing with the Whittier
Male chorus on a sacred program at Trinity auditorium, Los Angeles, Sunday night, April 29, Hazel Landers Hummel, soloist and choir director of the First Christian church of this city, today announced her solo numbers for the occasion.

An arrangement of "The Last Rose of Summer," will be one of the events of the program. Mrs.
Hummel singing with the chorus, while as solo numbers she will give "Lead Me All the Way," (Briggs), "Not Understood" (Houghton), and "Oh Lord, Rebuke Me Not," by Wooler.

The Whittier Male chorus will make a local appearance May 22 when a recital will be presented at the Christian church as a Y. M.
C. A. benefit. Mrs. Hummel will also give a recital on the night of May 11 at the Baptist church.
Ethel Troxell Thompson will act as her accompanist while flute obligatos to various songs will be given by Walter H. O'Gara.

HEAL SKIN DISEASES

Apply Zemo, Clean, Penetrating, Antiseptic Liquid

It is unnecessary for you to suffer with Eczema, Blisters, Ringworm, Rashes and similar skin troubles. Zemo obtained at any drug store for 35c, or $1.00 for extra large bottle, and promptly applied will usually give instant relief from itching torture. It cleanses and soothes the skin and heals quickly and effectively most skin diseases.

Zemo is a wonderful, penetrating, disappearing liquid and is soothing to the most delicate skin. Get it today and save all further distress.

ASSERTED LIST OF KLANSMEN IS FLAYED

Denouncing the "Dear Friend of the Faith" list of purported members of the Ku Klux Klan, Attorney Carl M. Heim, speaking for the Knights of Columbus, declares that whoever sent out the list was either a knave or a fool. He further declares it to be the opinion of the Knights of Columbus that the sender was a knave. This morning, too, The Register received a communication from Los Angeles, signed "G. W. Price, King Kleagle, Realms California and Nevada," in which it is stated that the Klan had nothing to do with the circulation of a circular during the recent city election here, and did not send out the list of purported klansmen referred to by Heim.

Heim's communication to The Register came as a result of the circulation through the mail of a list of names with the following heading:

"Dear Friend of the Faith: Through efforts on the part of operatives of American Unity League, we have been able to secure the following list of members of the Ku Klux Klan in Santa Ana. This list was up to date in November, 1921, but there are many more by this time. Copy this list and hand it to a member of the Faithful, and ask him to do the same. In this way we will know who to watch from now on."

Heim's Letter.
The communication from Heim follows:

"Editor Register:—It seems strange that anyone should persist in the empty purpose of enrolling a community into a state of religious bigotry, and yet we have persons of such mental caliber who would do so by use of the contemptible anonymous letter. That such persons need little attention in Santa Ana is obvious by reason of the fact that the clergy of all our denominational churches are men of the highest type and always most admirably stand by the safeguarding the American principles of religious freedom and tolerance. "A large number of the members of the Knights of Columbus of Santa Ana are recipients of a recent anonymous letter addressed: 'Dear Friend of the Faith' and containing an alleged list of members of the Ku Klux Klan. This letter purports to come from a 'friend of the Faith' which 'Faith' we do not know. The writer was either a knave or a fool. The members of the Knights of Columbus who received copies of the 'list' are inclined to believe that he was a knave. "In the spirit of justice, I wish to say in behalf of the Knights of Columbus that we know that many of the men, good citizens of Santa Ana, whose names appear on that alleged list are not members of the Ku Klux Klan, and we never can be made to believe, particularly through anonymous letters, that they are members of the Ku Klux Klan."

Price's Letter.
Written on Klan letterheads, The Register today received the following: "Dated at Los Angeles, California. "Send reply to 20 Walker Auditorium. "April 25, '23. "Editor of Santa Ana Daily Register, Santa Ana, California. "Dear Sir:—Your editorial comment of the 24th inst. in which you request a reply from Santa Ana Klan relative to their cognizance of or their participation in the so-called 'yellow political pamphlets' and the publication of the American Unity League Klan list has been referred to me for reply. "I shall take this opportunity to write you that Santa Ana Klan was not informed in regard to a political ticket of any nature whatsoever, nor did it sanction or approve nor have the opportunity to sanction or approve any such methods of political propaganda whatsoever. "All Klans are positively and absolutely against any such methods of procedure. I shall say, however, that each and every Klansman is ever awake to keep all public offices above reproach by encouraging the election of honest and upright American citizens, and the attempt to obstruct the election of such citizens who are known to be corrupt. Such influence is brought to bear only through Klansmen's personal public influence and positively in no other manner. "In regard to the list of names published by the American Unity League, I wish to inform you that the league was formed by one Patrick O'Donnell at Chicago in 1922 for the purpose of combating by national-wide propaganda, the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan. The typewritten list, you will observe, is for the benefit of the Faithful, to use your expression, 'whoever they may be.'

"There has been no affirmation or denial from Santa Ana Klan, because the Klan at large is blamed for everything from petty thievery to murder, and all without just cause, provocation and without proof in a single instance. It is, therefore tiresome and useless to continually spend one's time denying first one unfounded rumor and then another.

"In closing I would call your attention to the fact that no provisional nor chartered Klan throughout the United States has the authority to publish nor make known, by any means a list of their membership. It is not because a Klansman is in hiding nor because of any other motive in keeping his identity secret that he fails to proclaim himself a Klansman publicly, but, because under present usages, requirements and regulations he is not permitted to do so. If, perchance, you are interested I am at liberty to state that there are at the present time 716 Klansmen in Santa Ana, and their membership is growing rapidly, they are obligating large classes regularly comprising the representative business and professional residents of your city.

"I am in a position to inform you that the list as published by the American Unity League, is incorrect and until an authorized list of Santa Ana Klan is published from my office and over my signature, you may consider all other lists as inaccurate."

BANISHED MAN BRAVES LAW, RETURNS, GETS 500-DAY BOOZE TERM

Pleading guilty to having intoxicating liquor in his possession, following his arrest near Bolsa Tuesday, R. Yorba was today in the county jail, serving a sentence of 500 days imposed when he failed to pay a $500 fine.

When he was taken before Justice J. B. Cox, officers testified that he had been ordered to leave the county seven years ago, and that in coming back, he had disobeyed that order.

Ben Hart, arrested with him, was given 30 days for reckless driving.

THE can in which Borden's Evaporated Milk reaches you is a means of safeguarding the milk.

There has been a lot of prejudice on this subject.

The best milk that is produced goes into that can. It is absolutely pure when put into the can. Then the can is sealed and both can and milk sterilized.

What could be safer than that? No germs or dirt can get into a sealed can. No bacteria action can take place in an air-tight, sterilized can.

Infact, the can is your protection.

SANTA ANA, CALIFORNIA, THURSDAY, APRIL 26, 1923

CONTRACTS FOR NEW JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL LET

Utopian Hospitality Here Found by Montana Teacher

"The town with a friendly face." Santa Ana is that town in the opinion of Miss L. K. Sutherland, 468 Hickey street, as expressed in a communication to The Register. A school teacher, a traveler and an observing woman, Miss Sutherland's comment on the "atmosphere" of Santa Ana is one that hundreds of residents will appreciate. Miss Sutherland is from Montana.

The "soul of a city"—can such a thing be built into a city. It can, in the opinion of many. It is being built into Santa Ana and the cordiality of local people and their cordial greeting to strangers have been responsible for the location here of any number of home seekers.

It has been pointed out recently by others that this pleasing condition here could be extended by every resident making special effort to offer the stranger a friendly greeting.

Evangelist LeGrand, who is conducting a revival meeting at the corner of Third and Birch streets, commented on the salutations given him on the streets by absolute strangers. He thinks it is a fine spirit.

Tells the Story
But let Miss Sutherland tell her story of "A Stranger's Impression of Santa Ana." Here it is:

"In my wanderings about the world I have often wondered whether countries, towns or people fully realize the value of first impressions. To sensitive personalities they are a serious matter. Love at first sight to them is at least a possibility and dislike also.

When they enter a cheerful, bright, busy municipality their spirits rise at once, and in consequence, their minds become alert, eager, and ready to respond to any call or emergency. The boulevard streets, prosperous homes, well-dressed energetic inhabitants, the inviting stores, markets and business offices "warm the cockles of their hearts." They feel that: "They have found their niche And will no further roam, For spirit, soul and body Know that they've found their home."

"This without any exaggeration is the effect the queen city of Orange county has had upon many, myself among the number.

"What's in the heart of Santa Ana?" is a question I am fully prepared to answer favorably without indulging in hyperbole. Here at least no one may remain idle or lonely. The churches, societies and other organizations stand shoulder to shoulder, ready to hold out a helping hand in support of the weak, friendless or erring. A spirit of true "comaraderie" is prevalent.

Shining Example
"A shining example of this quality is seen in the Social Service League. Surely that is laying up treasure where neither moth nor rust doth corrupt. How many its help has saved from desperation will never be known.

$120,000 APT. BUILDING IS PLANNED

S. A. Development Company to Begin Structure Within 30 Days

With plans drawn, the Santa Ana Development company contemplates starting, within thirty days, work on the construction of a two-story building to cover all its vacant property north of the Central market, that will cost $120,000, according to announcement today by Frank Purinton, secretary of the company and manager of the market.

Those composing the company are Purinton, Linn L. Shaw, Roy Russell, A. N. Zerman, all of Santa Ana, and H. Work of Long Beach.

The company is now completing the erection of a two-story business block on North Broadway, between Fourth and Third streets.

The contemplated building will be 75x250, the 75-foot frontage being on both Sycamore and Broadway. There will be twelve store rooms on the ground floor, with twenty-nine apartments on the second.

The lobby and company office will be on the Sycamore street front, while there will be one entrance to the apartments on Broadway and two on Second street.

A feature of the building will be a thirty-foot arcade running from Second street south to connect with the arcade in the Grand Central market.

"We now have tenants for a portion of the building," said Purinton. "We will not hold up construction work pending leasing of all of the apartments and store rooms, for we have no doubt that they will all be spoken for by the time the building is completed."

"The plans have been completed and we expect to submit them to contractors within a short time. It is our purpose to have construction work in progress through the summer and have the building completed by the end of that period."

BUILDING ACTIVITY SHOWN IN REPORTS

Building activity on the Edgewood park subdivision continues, according to announcement today by A. B. Roussele, subdivider. Roussele said that all but one of the lots in the tract had been sold.

R. Frazer is constructing a $6000 home of attractive design. V. E. Maynard is constructing two $5000 stucco residences. William Rohrbacher has sold to John Wilcox, for $6500, a dwelling just completed. Harold Yost, manager of the West End theater, has purchased the model residence erected by J. P. Mason. The purchase included two lots adjoining, the consideration being reported at $20,000. The residence contains six rooms. It is Spanish stucco with cove Tiffany ceilings, and is said to be a very striking property.

SMITH SELLS THIRD STREET CORNER LOT FOR LARGE FIGURE

The sale by William Smith, local manager for Guggenheim and company, of the southeast corner of Spurgeon and Third streets to J. P. McCarter and W. L. Salisbury, was one of the important vacant business lot deals of this week. The property has a frontage of 100 feet on Spurgeon and a depth of 125 feet. Smith had owned the two lots about a year.

While the consideration was not definitely disclosed, it is reported at $30,000, the sum being a substantial increase over the amount paid by Smith. According to Salisbury he and McCarter at present have no definite plans for improving the corner. McCarter last week sold his business property on Sycamore street, between First and Second, to Miss Estelle Nisson, and reinvested in the Spurgeon street corner.

MODERN ESTABLISHMENT ON WEST FOURTH STREET OF SANTA ANA BAKING COMPANY

View of the Santa Baking Company's new building at 1432 West Fourth street, in the center of a new and rapidly developing commercial district, and an interior view of the sanitary bake room, with operatives engaged in the manufacture of products of the new establishment.

MILLS PROJECT TO COMMENCE OPERATIONS

Declaring that re-establishment of the woolen mills here had passed from a project to a certainty, S. L. Deane, president of the Santacala Woolen Mills company, said today that he expected to start the plant at the corner of Washington avenue and Santiago street within the next thirty days.

Deane has had many years experience in plant operation, coming here from Los Angeles, where he held the position of vice-president and superintendent of production of the Imperial Cotton Mills company.

"The mill here is a nucleus around which Santa Ana can build up stable and profitable industries," said Deane. "There is no more stable industry than that of textiles. Those who have lived in the sections of the east where cotton mills abound do not have to be informed of this fact—they know it."

"Southern California is destined to become the location of many big industries. I know of no city in the southland where conditions are more favorable for manufacturing plants than in Santa Ana. Proper inducements no doubt will result in establishment here of a number of worth while enterprises. The location of two or three successful factories would induce others to locate."

"Climatic conditions here are ideal. Living conditions cannot be improved on. Every element is here that makes for contentment. Labor will be better satisfied than in a larger city. Every condition is such as to produce the highest efficiency on the part of employees."

"As to a market for our product and the supplies for manufacturing, there is no discounting the statement that the situation is highly favorable to Santa Ana. The proximity of the supply and the fact that we are in the center of a market that will absorb our entire product assures at once success of the enterprise."

According to Deane sufficient interest in the project has been manifested by investors to insure the financing of the reorganization plans, which provide for a company capitalized at $300,000 and enlargement of the plant to twice its present size. Deane said that it is his purpose to start the present plant at an early date and to work into the enlargement as money became available.

With the plant of the Santa Ana Baking company, at 1432 West Fourth street, in full operation, business activity on West Fourth street has been given a new impetus. Establishment of a modern plant at that place by L. H. Hill, pioneer resident of Santa Ana, and George Vorhi, an experienced baker, is another proof that business men are recognizing the west end of Fourth street as a developing commercial section of importance, according to the statement today of a property owner in the vicinity of the development.

According to Vorhi, the new plant is complete in every respect.

BAKING PLANTS LARGE LOCAL INDUSTRY

Six bakeries, representing a capital investment of $100,000 of Santa Ana's total of $5,000,000 in industries, are turning out 5,000 loaves of bread a day here to supply the needs of this city and surrounding communities in Orange county, according to figures compiled by P. S. Lucas, secretary of the Merchants and Manufacturers association.

Forty employees and half as many motor trucks aid in the making and the distribution of Santa Ana's bread production.

Between 150 to 160 tons of flour a month are used for these bakeries—sufficient to make Mount Baldy look like midwinter.

This is purely local industry. Several bakeries here are doing a wholesale business, shipping their product to the communities surrounding Santa Ana.

WORK TO BEGIN IMMEDIATELY: BUILDING TO BE COMPLETE SEPT. 1

Daniels and Farris, Low Bidders, With $161,275 for General Contract

ECONOMY STRESSED

Two-story Structure Planned of Spanish Type, Fireproof Concrete

Economy of construction will characterize the new junior high school to be erected on the Ross property at South Main and Fairview streets, which today was being cleared of the old Ross house and such trees as would come within the building lines, in order that erection of the new school might begin immediately.

Daniels and Farris, Los Angeles contractors, were successful bidders for the job. Their bid was $161,275, according to Frank L. Andrews, secretary of the Santa Ana board of education. The heating contract was awarded to S. Hill and Son, for $11,336.

Other bidders included J. S. Fluor, $169,890; Chris McNeill, $163,487, and R. C. McMillan, $168,242. Others who bid on the heating included J. H. Hokum, $13,145; Frank Davidson, $11,420, and Thomas Haverly, $12,953.

Daniels and Farris, who recently completed new Orange high school, Andrews said, have agreed to begin work immediately—that the site is cleared. It is expected that the school will be ready for occupancy September 1.

Report Bid Low

Members of the board of education expressed themselves as well satisfied with the low bid for the school job. Frederick H. Eley, architect, who drew the plans for the building, said that the cost of school buildings elsewhere was being estimated at 30 to 35 cents a cubic foot, and that the bid for the new junior high school here figured at less than thirty cents.

He further emphasized the economy of construction in Santa Ana by drawing attention to the Y. M. C. A. building now under construction, plans for which were of his drafting. This building also was being erected at a cost below that estimated as normal in other cities, he said.

The new junior high school will be a two-story structure of concrete exterior walls and carrying

You Can Screen Out Summer Insect Pests

If you can destroy the breeding places of Flies and Mosquitoes, as well as trap and kill many of them—and you ought to do so. But there will still be enough of these pestiferous insects left to make summer comfort out of the question if you don't screen them out of your home.

Flies and mosquitoes work in relays; flies by day and mosquitoes by night; and then there are the moths and other night flying insects. Your only protection from their assaults is screening of windows, doors and porches.

The annoyance caused by flies and mosquitoes is reason enough for screening them away from folks; but that is a trifle compared with the terrible losses in health and life they cause as carriers of disease.

You must screen early because a single last year's left-over mother fly can populate a whole neighborhood. Mosquitoes also are prolific.

Better let us measure your windows for screens today; doors, too, of course; and you'll be wise to make a summer room of that porch by screening.

We are at your service and we'll do the job right; but remember flies and mosquitoes start early in the spring and work fast.

The Economical Roofing

A building may be ever so cheaply constructed—or it may be ever so costly—but if the roofing material used is inferior, there is bound to be grief ahead.

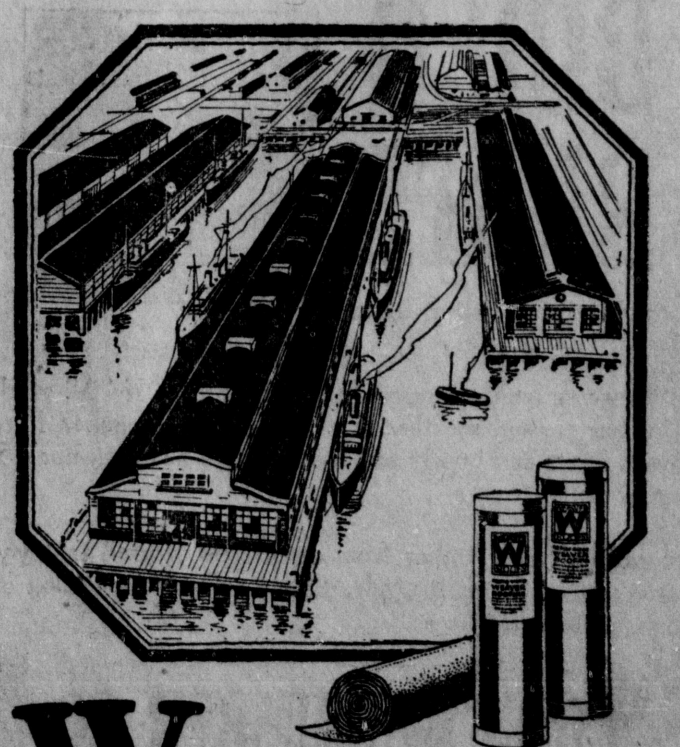

The cost of even the very highest grade "Weaver" Roofing is so slightly more than the cost of the very cheapest types of ordinary roofing that its use is advisable whether the building is of cheap or of expensive construction.

The processing of "Weaver" Roofing is so thorough that it will stand up for many years under the severest tests of extreme weather conditions.

And throughout its life it is free from the need of upkeep or repairs.

Tell your architect or contractor to specify "Weaver" Roofing.

The Ideal City

"The ideal city has, to my mind, between twenty and forty thousand inhabitants. It is wide awake, far-sighted, and quick to take advantage of the tide in the affairs of men, which taken at the flood leads on to fortune, onward and upward into the bright sunlight of success and prosperity; yet at the same time it is small enough to be neighborly.

"Like Noah's raven, for many years I have traveled to and fro, unable to find a permanent resting place for the sole of my foot, a haven where I could be. Need I look further? No indeed. My search at last is ended. I have found my Utopia—Santa Ana, the town with a friendly face."

WORK TO BEGIN IMMEDIATELY ON BUILDING

partitions, according to Eley's plans approved by the board. The plans call for a Spanish type of architecture and economical design. A part clay tile roof, with a two-story entrance rotunda, circled by a balcony in the form of a balcony, and ceiling lighting are features of the plans.

Twenty-five classrooms, including a study hall, and library are shown. A manual training department will be added later, it was understood, as a separate unit. All stairways are specified as fire-proof concrete.

A $250,000 bond issue recently voted will be used to finance construction of the new school. The building site cost approximately $41,000. The school building and heating and such equipment will use all but $30,000 of the bonded funds, it was expected. The $30,000 was planned to finance additional units and departments of the school plant.

Success of the second special election to bond the city for $150,000 to provide funds for grammar school buildings and alterations and additions to present buildings made it possible for the board to instruct Eley to draw plans for the proposed work.

G. O. P. BOARD TO HOLD MEET ON P. O. JOBS

At a meeting of the Republican County Central committee to be held at the Elks' dining room at Anaheim next Monday noon, a recommendation for an appointment as postmaster at Anaheim will probably be made, it was stated here today, as committee members were receiving the call for the meeting sent out by the chairman, W. F. Menton, and secretary, E. R. Abbey.

The purpose of the meeting, as stated in the call, is to consider the situations in two post office matters, one at Anaheim and the other at Placentia.

At Anaheim three names were presented in the list of eligibles received from the Civil Service commission. These three are Paul Taggart, an automobile man, Harry Whitaker, office manager of the Orange County Rock and Gravel company, and Victor Lamont, an oil man.

Last Friday night, the three central committeemen from Anaheim, J. S. Howard, D. Jessurun and E. C. Dutton, called the three candidates for the Anaheim postmaster before them.

What the decision of the committeemen was has not been announced. They have notified Chairman Menton that they will make a recommendation to the central committee at Monday's meeting. The county committee will then take its action.

The recommendation of the county committee will be passed to Congressman Phil D. Swing, of El Centro, with the request that he use his best efforts to carry out the county committee's recommendation.

The list of eligibles for the Placentia postmaster contains the names of Mrs. Sula D. Abbott, who is acting postmaster at this time, and of Mrs. Marian N. Miller and E. A. Miller.

DUTIFUL DAUGHTER IS CAREFUL NOT TO WORRY FATHER

CHICAGO, April 25.—When Edward B. Shapker, wealthy Chicago broker, left here for a trip to New York, he told his pretty daughter, Bessy, 17, not to send him any news that would worry him.

Bessy didn't, but this is what she held out on him:

That she was "pinched" for going 45 miles an hour in papa's new limousine with five girls, to escape flitting boys in another car that she was fined $75, but melted the judge $25 on a plea that she wouldn't have any money for powder and rouge; that she paid $7 on account, and told the judge she was going to get married to get the rest.

LUMBER FIRM SEEKS OLDEST SHINGLE HERE

Ten dollars for a wooden shingle—that is what the Barr Lumber company is offering to pay for the oldest wooden shingle, in point of continuous service, brought to its place of business before May 25. According to an announcement made by the company, contestants must submit samples of shingles at least four inches wide, with a written statement giving the facts of location, description and ownership of building and the date that the shingle was first put on.

HOLD LAST RITES FOR THOMAS ASH

The body of Thomas Ash, formerly city building inspector, was taken to Los Angeles today for cremation. Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon at Winbigler's Mission Funeral home, with the Christian Science church in charge. Accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Ray Stedman, Miss Edith Cornell sang "The City Four Square" and "Waiting Heartstring of the Mind." The floral offerings were numerous and beautiful.

Thomas Ash was born at Louisville, Ky., August 27, 1860, and died at his residence here, 437 South Sycamore street, on the afternoon of Monday, April 23, 1923. At the age of 26 he moved to Longmont, Colo., where he was married May 15, 1881, to Alice Lamb, who survives him. He was a resident of Montrose, Colo., for twenty years, where he followed farming and at times did building contracting. He was one of the pioneers of the western slope of Colorado.

The family moved to the coast some eighteen years ago, residing at Long Beach, and Los Angeles, and Salem, Oregon, at different periods. Moving to Santa Ana in 1908, Mr. Ash engaged actively in contracting until he was appointed building inspector for this city, which position he held for six years, retiring two years ago.

He was the last of the charter members of the Odd Fellows lodge at Longmont, Colo. When in Salem he transferred his membership to the lodge there and continued his membership in the latter lodge.

Beside the widow he is survived by a daughter, Miss Annie L., and son, Park, both residents of this city.

BILLIARD ROW DEATH CASE MAN FREED

C. C. Triplett, Brea, was free today, following a verdict of not guilty to manslaughter charges, rendered by a jury in Superior Judge R. Y. Williams' court late yesterday afternoon.

The jury went into deliberation at 3:15 p. m., after a two days' trial, and at 3:45 p. m. they returned the verdict which freed Triplett and restored him to the little flaxen-haired daughter and the attractive wife who had stood by him throughout the trial.

The defendant was charged with killing Malcolm Arrian in the course of an altercation in a billiard room at Brea in April, 1920. At that time he left California before a warrant for his arrest could be secured, and he was not arrested until several months ago when he returned.

The defense successfully maintained that Arrian had been suffering from a disease of the heart, and that he had died from an over-exhaustion induced by the grapple with Triplett.

Dr. D. C. Cowis, Brea, testified as to the condition in which the heart was found in a post mortem examination.

Attorney A. E. Koepsel represented the plaintiff, while Deputy District Attorney C. N. Mozley appeared for the people.

NEAR EAST 'BUNDLE DAY' DUE ON MAY 8

Tuesday, May 8, will be Near East Relief "Bundle Day" here for the gathering of clothing and shoes with which to clothe the destitute homeless and helpless men, women and children of the Bible Lands and adjacent territory. Approximately two million persons, victims of recent Near Eastern wars, are the chief sufferers.

The local Near East Relief committee, working in conjunction with the Southern California committee, is enlisting the help of individuals and of schools, business firms, churches, clubs and all other organizations in the collection of usable, cast-off or new garments and the prompt shipment of these supplies to Near East Relief, Los Angeles, for early forwarding to the Near East.

"Bundle Day" general headquarters is at 517 Wright & Callender building, telephones 666-54 and 144-51, Los Angeles. Bundles may be shipped to 172 South Utah street, Los Angeles.

Near East Relief "Bundle Day" which is a national event, will be observed this year in more than 100 Southern California communities. It is planned to gather 125 tons of clothing supplies in the Southland.

J. G. Mitchell and W. B. Tedford constitute the local Near East Relief committee which has charge of the "Bundle Day" campaign.

Hill pointed out that the products of the new plant are available both at the plant and at the California market, at the corner of French and East Fourth streets.

INTEREST GROWING IN SHAKESPEARE CONTEST

Interest in the annual Shakespearean contest in Los Angeles May 4 is on the increase at the Santa Ana High school as the entrants are being chosen and the date for the big festival approaches.

Miss Minna Mae Lewis, instructor in drama at the high school, was in Los Angeles today, attending a meeting of the directors of the festival and will be able on her return to make definite announcements as to plans for the all-day program.

Santa Ana has been especially honored in that the boys' quartette from the high school has been invited to give a group of numbers on the program at the festival. Members of the quartette are Jack Langley, Leon Gardner, Loren Canon and Carl Opp.

An owner of a half acre in WASHINGTON ACRES has an immediate income from Walnuts or Oranges. Or he can take advantage of the opportunity to raise poultry, by which success depends only upon reasonable effort. And he can have a SUBURBAN HOME with modern conveniences right in Santa Ana's front yard.

Crowning these opportunities is the certain increase in value. North side property is in the thoughts of every careful investor. Washington Acres actually offers HALF ACRES AT BULK PRICES—and at that, bulk prices mean only $3500 to $4000 an acre in Washington Acres. That's worth thinking over.

Another strong link in this chain is the proximity of valuable business property; and the tendency to make Washington Street a business street from the east to the west sides. That is an influence that interests speculators.

Petitions for paving were presented to the Council last Monday night and are now in the hands of the City Engineer.

COUNTY C. OF C. TOLD BARGE LINE TO HARBOR UNDER WAY

Negotiations are in progress with the Wilmington Transportation company for institution of a barge service between San Pedro and Orange county harbor at Newport Beach.

This fact became known here today, following its announcement by Lew H. Wallace, of Newport Beach, at a meeting of the Associated Chambers of Commerce last night at the union high school at Tustin. The statement came at the conclusion of a harbor report made by Wallace as chairman of the harbor committee. Wallace recapitulated recent developments in the work on the bay and said that it probably would be several weeks before the work was finally completed, although it had been announced that dredging would be completed April 1, last.

He said that a committee had passed the last month in interviewing lumbermen of the county and that it had been revealed to the committee that it was more difficult to get boats than to get lumber cargoes. He pointed out that vessels carrying pine lumber draw too much water to permit of their entering the harbor. Redwood lumber boats, he said, were of the type that could enter the port. Redwood, however, was in very little demand here, Wallace said. He had the promise of a redwood cargo soon.

Port Value Realized
Indicating that residents of San Bernardino and of Riverside more fully appreciated the possibilities of the port than Orange county people, Wallace said that the chances were that these two counties would be shipping oranges through Newport before growers of Orange county did so.

J. A. Armistage, Sunset Beach, declared that if producers and merchants of Orange county would center efforts on development of commerce for the port, in a short time there would be considerable commercial activity at the harbor. He pointed to San Pedro shipping in 1910 totalling 38,000 tons, with present shipping in excess of nine million tons annually.

He asserted that were the Garden Grove section to ship by water peppers produced there the saving would more than offset interest on the harbor bonds and annual payment on the obligation.

He further declared that if merchants would direct delivery of merchandise to the port, the freight charges would be less than via San Pedro even in the shipments had to be transferred from San Pedro to Newport by barge.

Show Men Speak
Malcolm Fraser, manager of the California Valencia show at Anaheim; R. D. Flaherty, manager of the Orange County fair, and Horace Fine, representing the committee on the Auto Resurrection Day program of Santa Ana Post No. 131, American Legion, gave brief outlines of the development of each project. Fraser announced that the orange show had fourteen feature exhibits, all that was wanted, but that rack displays of oranges were needed.

T. E. Talbert, Huntington Beach, announced development at the beach that promised location there of a big textile plant.

J. D. Thomas, of Olive, president of the Associated Chambers, announced that standing committees would be named and made public at the next session, which would be held at Anaheim, May 23, one week earlier than the usual date for the monthly meeting. The date was advanced so that the meeting could be held at the Mother Colony during the Valencia show.

The address of welcome was delivered by the Rev. W. S. McDougall, pastor of the Presbyterian church at Tustin, and response was by Elmer Jahraus, of Laguna Beach.

Girls Serve Dinner
The Tustin Chamber did itself proud in entertainment of the visitors. Dinner was prepared by the domestic science department, and served by girls of the department. The menu was complete and the food was delicious.

The business session was held in the auditorium and was preceded by the presentation of three scenes from "The Rivals," by members of the high school English class. The presentation was an innovation in the program of Associated meetings and was enjoyed by 100 men and women.

TAX OFFICIALS HERE BUSY AS RUSH BEGINS

Extra assistants in the office of J. C. Lamb, county tax collector, today were making heroic efforts to keep pace with the increasing work incident to the last-minute rush of those desirous of paying their taxes before they become delinquent, at 5 p. m., next Monday.

According to Lamb, those who call at the courthouse to pay their taxes will greatly facilitate matters if they will bring with them something "other than the street address of their homes."

"Many seem to think," said Lamb, "that this is all that is required. As a matter of fact, however, those who wish to pay their taxes should bring to us their lot and block number, or a deed, a contract, or an old tax receipt, from which we may gain a clear idea of the property involved."

"During the past few days we have been kept busy handling the last-minute details of the tax procedure, and we will make special efforts to take care of those who visit our offices today, Friday and Saturday."

"This office will remain open Saturday until 5 p. m., in order to accommodate those who are unable to visit the courthouse until this time. A penalty of 5 per cent will be added to the taxes becoming delinquent after 5 p. m., Monday."

LONDON DANDIES SPEND $2500 YEAR TO CLOTHE SELVES

LONDON, April 25 — Clothes may not make the man, but in London they very easily "break" him. Those dashing young chappies who stroll about Piccadilly Circus, lounge in the fashionable London hotels and clubs and grace the theater, the cabaret or the dinner-dansant at night, need money—a powerful lot of it—to achieve and maintain the sartorial elegance for which they are noted. They are gorgeously arrayed, but the amounts they spend for their habiliments would, if lumped together come precious close to liquidating the British national debt. Take the word of an expert for it, the man who wishes to be considered really smart and up-to-date in his clothes spends $2000 to $2500 a year.

EXPECT 100 AT COUNTRY CLUB ANNUAL MEET

Fully 100 members of the Orange County Country club were today expected to attend the annual meeting of the club at St. Ann's Inn here tonight.

In addition to electing three directors, committees appointed some time ago to work out the details for the new home of the club will make reports at tonight's meeting. Directors to be elected were John L. Wheeler, George Shattuck and Edwin McWilliams. A committee representing a holding company recently completed the purchase of 144.29 acres from Bradford and Bryan, Santa Ana Heights, as a site for the new club.

As the lease on the present club site expires during the next year, steps no doubt will be taken to arrange for a continuation of the lease pending the completion of the new course.

Now that the site for the new club has been purchased, many members of the club were looking forward with pleasurable anticipation to the time when they will be able to play golf over a grass course, and for this reason it is expected that speed will be urged by the committees in the completion of the course.

It is the hope of the new club officials to obtain at least 400 members at an initiation fee approximating $400, so that when the new grounds are improved and new buildings are erected, the club will be out of debt.

ROAD WORK STATUS IN COUNTY BARED

All county highway work of the 1922-23 budget is either completed or under contract, with the exception of the bridge across the Santa Ana river, on the state highway between Newport and Huntington Beach, according to J. L. McBride, county engineer.

"This bridge has not been begun because the state has not contracted for paying the road," said McBride.

"According to the highway jobs, the state builds the road and the county builds the bridges. It would be useless for us to put the bridge in there before the highway unit was built."

"The Talbert-Greenville road now is complete. It was delayed many months due to water troubles and various other difficulties, including the necessity of raising the concrete bridge five feet."

"Plans for next year have not been made. What they will be I could not say at this time."

KNOCKERS WILL 'DO STUFF' AT LEGION MEET

Get out the old hammer and prepare to do a little knocking.

If you are a member of Santa Ana Post No. 131, American Legion, tonight's the big night for you.

"The lid's off," said Commander Franklin Grouard, "and the anvil chorus will begin festivities at 8 p. m."

"If you have a grudge, bring it to the Legion Home tonight. Don't stand on the corner and ballyhoo the Legion. Come inside, with your hammer, and take a few full-fledged whacks at anything in particular and everything in general."

"We are 'all set' for a merry little party and we would like a full attendance of the hammer brigade. Let the blows fall where they may."

"Knocker's night" will be featured by "snappy" speeches, the Rev. Percy Clarkson, rector of the Orange Episcopal church, occupying the place of honor. The Rev. Mr. Clarkson, as chaplain with the Anzacs, had some remarkable experiences during the Great War. He will attempt to counteract tonight's "knocking" by doing a bit of boosting.

Entertainment features include a comedy, "The Gland Operation," which will be presented by members of the Orange post of the American Legion.

Serious business will include a complete report by Captain Joseph A. Plank, chairman of the Auto Resurrection Day committee.

"Excellent progress has been made," said Captain Plank, "and indications point to a crowd of 45,000 spectators May 5."

CHAPPIE'S HAIR LONGER

LONDON, April 26.—Short hair for men is going the way of bobbed hair for women. London barbers report that their fashionable patrons, who used to feel themselves all weighted down if they went more than a week without a haircut, are now allowing three and four weeks to elapse between trips to the barber's chair.

AMERICAN LEGION SECURES HOSPITAL IN TEXAS SECTION

WASHINGTON, April 26.—Disabled veterans of the South and Southwest will receive substantial benefits as a result of President Harding's approval of recommendations of Joe Sparks, chairman of the American Legion's national rehabilitation committee. These include the lease of the 500-bed tuberculosis hospital at Kerrville, Texas, known as the American Legion Memorial sanatorium, and the construction of additional facilities at the Veterans' Bureau Neuro-psychiatric hospital No. 78 at North Little Rock, Arkansas, and No. 6 at Augusta, Georgia. Three hundred beds will be added to each of these hospitals.

Alvin Owsley, national commander of the American Legion, has led the long fight which resulted in the lease of the Kerrville institution. This hospital was erected jointly by the Texas department of the American Legion and the state of Texas. Kerrville is 1800 feet above sea level, and has long been noted for its excellent climatic conditions for treatment of pulmonary tuberculosis. Two hundred Texas veterans, now in Southern California, will be transferred to this hospital.

A portion of the $5,000,000, carried in next year's annual appropriation bill for hospital extensions is available immediately. President Harding, at the Legion's request, has approved the expenditure of $505,000 of this sum for the North Little Rock hospital, and $616,000 for the Augusta hospital.

Other recommendations of the Legion which the president approved were the opening of 200 neuro-psychiatric beds at hospital No. 30 at Chicago, and 100 neuro-psychiatric beds at the Speedway hospital No. 76, Maywood, Ill.

The president disapproved all bids for the construction of the proposed hospital at Livermore, Calif., concerning which charges of impropriety have been made. An offer of $175,000 for the Hahnemann hospital at Seattle, to contain 175 beds for general and surgical patients, has been approved by the president.

PLAYWRIGHT CALLS L. A. "BOOB TOWN"

LOS ANGELES, April 26.—Los Angeles has been called a boob town by one of New York's leading playwrights.

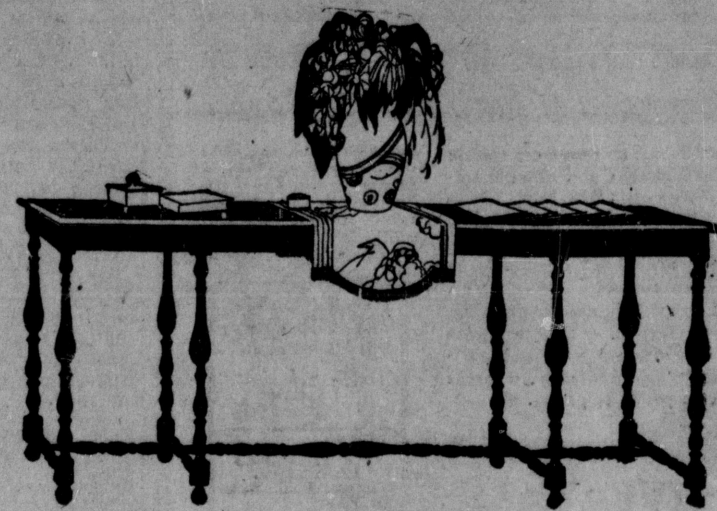

Channing Pollock, whose latest drama, "The Pool," received a frosty reception when it opened here and subsequently knocked Manhattan audiences out of their seats, considers Los Angeles, the film capital of the world and several other things, a mere Babbitt-hutch.

"Yes," said Mr. Pollock, in a recent interview, "Los Angeles is a boob town. If a play falls there it is certain to succeed in civilized centers. And vice-versa."

VETERANS ARE URGED TO REINSTATE INSURANCE
WASHINGTON, D. C., April 25.—The Veterans of Foreign Wars have undertaken in connection with the United States veterans' bureau, an extensive insurance reinstatement drive. Circulars have been sent out from the V. F. W. headquarters advising the ex-service men of the recent World War of the privileges and opportunities and benefits which they are lacking if they do not reinstate their government insurance at the earliest date. The national service bureau in Washington is being besieged daily. Many of the men who have become permanently and totally disabled, discover only too late that they are unable to derive the benefits.

VANCOUVER, B. C.: British Columbia is said to be capable of supporting a population of 20,000,000.
OTTAWA, Ont.: Official returns show that 512 Scots came here as immigrants in one month in 1923.
WINNIPEG: There are 3,700 licensed warehouses in the three prairie provinces.

7 Dixon's Durable Dwellings NEARING COMPLETION

ALL IN HIGHLY RESTRICTED LOCATIONS!

Two sixes and a five in 900 block W. Camile, that wonder street built almost solidly with good homes in a year; two sixes on Cypress Ave., in 1300 block, east fronts, the cream of McFadden Home Place, and a super-six at 524 W. 19th, two blocks off Broadway in the exclusive Strong Tract. All are convenient to schools, street improvements in and paid. EARLY BUYERS CAN SELECT FINISH on some of them.

All These Big Savings!

are directly reflected in the values I give the homebuyer. Many SATISFIED homeowners in Santa Ana know that the phrase "DIXON'S DURABLE DWELLINGS" IS MORE than an advertising slogan; that it means a sound, substantial, DURABLE, structure throughout, LOCATED RIGHT, BUILT RIGHT, SOLD RIGHT.

I'll gladly furnish a list of owners and cheerfully accept their verdict on these points. And what could be more conclusive, more convincing than that?

I MIGHT be prejudiced in favor of my houses; a competing builder MIGHT be jealous; some of the realtors MIGHT be antagonistic, but the word of a large group of disinterested owners IS SUPREME AUTHORITY — THEY KNOW.

Four Reasons Why I Give Bigger Home Values

FIRST—I buy lots at wholesale. Now own 25 lots in three high class restricted tracts, all of which I will build on this year, and EVERY LOT IS WORTH TODAY $250 TO $500 MORE THAN IT COST ME.

SECOND—Knowing my needs for the year I made contracts for building materials BEFORE THE RECENT BIG ADVANCES, which will give me AND MY BUYERS a decided advantage over the present market.

THIRD—PRACTICALLY ALL MY HOUSES ARE SOLD DIRECT to the home-buyer. (Only paid three selling commissions last year.) I negotiate my own first mortgage financing, and CARRY MY OWN SECOND PAPER, thus eliminating brokerage fees and the big discount which some builders (or their buyers) lose in selling their seconds. As I require substantial cash payments, it is not difficult to do this, besides nearly half my sales are to cash buyers.

FOURTH—I PAY SPOT CASH to all sub-contractors upon completion of their part of the job, and as all builders don't do this, I quite naturally get prompt efficient service at a fair price.

Just light it—and start cooking

WHEN you cook with a wickless Florence Oil Range, you just turn a lever, touch a match to the asbestos starting kindler, and you quickly have an intense, clean blue flame.

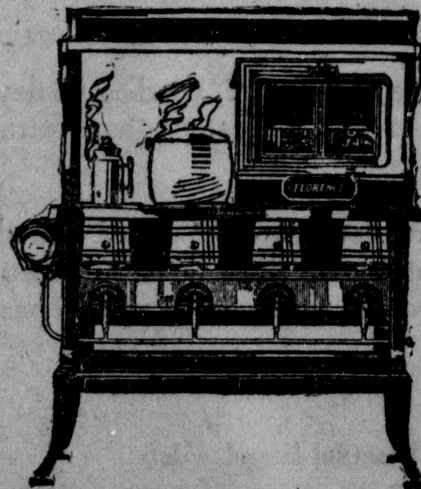

The Florence burns kerosene and offers the convenience of a gas range, at far less cost. The heat is close up under the cooking, and no heat is lost; it is easily regulated.

Don't worry over an inconvenient stove when it is so easy to have a Florence Oil Range. Ask your furniture or hardware dealer to show you one.

The burners are large and powerful, the heat intense.

BIG LIGHTS IN SKIES HERALD
SUBDIVISION

Giant searchlights have been introduced by the Southern California Investment company as a night advertising feature for North Broadway Park, the new subdivision at the head of North Broadway.

For the past two nights residents of the city have been mystified by two beams of electric light flashed in the sky from some point in Santa Ana. Their location was disclosed today by L. H. Chatterton, president and manager of the company.

According to Fred H. Oliver, secretary of the company, there has been much activity in sales in the tract since the formal opening Tuesday. He announced today sales aggregating $70,000. He declared the greater portions of the lots sold have been purchased by persons who are making plans for building at once.

"We are bending every effort to get improvements on the tract under way at once, so they will be completed by the time contemplated homes in the subdivision are finished," said Chatterton. "The tract improvements will be of the very best and probably will cost in excess of $150,000.

"Based on the interest shown by hundreds of persons, it may be predicted that the first unit of the subdivision will be sold out within thirty days. The choice sites are being snapped up rapidly."

JUNIOR HI TENNIS
PROSPECTS BRIGHT

With a quantity of promising material, including many players of considerable experience, athletic fans at the Santa Ana Junior high school today were confident that their tennis team will capture the Orange county grammar school championship this year.

The locals easily defeated Anaheim Tuesday, winning nine out of thirteen matches. Both the girls and the boys' teams are strong.

Nellie Hershey is probably the leading girl player and for that reason she has been playing first singles. She had little difficulty in annexing her fray with the Mother Colony racquet representative.

Charlotte Harnois plays second singles and with Miss Hershey takes care of first doubles. Margaret Witman and Elizabeth Cleary play third and fourth singles respectively and together represent Santa Ana in second doubles. Miss Clarabelle McBride plays with Everett Trotsel in mixed doubles.

George Preble is the foremost boy's net shark at the school and slams them back at the opposing first singles players. Jack Warner is second singles and with Preble handles the first boy's doubles assignment. Gorman Smith and Harold Martin play third and fourth singles respectively. They also combine in the second "dubs."

TOO MANY WOMEN NOW IN NATIONS OF EUROPE
PARIS, April 25. — There are women—and women, and a few too many of them, according to the latest statistics of an Italian who figures out a surplus of 25,000,000 of the feminine element. In Germany there are 1028 women against 1000 men; in Russia 1400 against 1000. America is rather well balanced with 1100 for 1000 men. France and Belgium count 1093 and 1033 respectively for 1000 men. Rumania is the only exception, with 985 men to 1000 women.

TONIGHT'S ATTRACTIONS.
YOST—Vaudeville and "The Pilgrim," with Charles Chaplin.
WEST END—"Manslaughter," with Thomas Meighan.
TEMPLE—"Bella Donna," with Pola Negri.
PRINCESS—"My Wild Irish Rose," with Pat O'Malley.

"MY WILD IRISH ROSE" AT PRINCESS TONIGHT.

"My Wild Irish Rose," will be the attraction at the Princess theater tonight and tomorrow. All those who love the land of the shamrock will like this splendid story, which tells a thrilling story of life in the Emerald Isle in the early days of Queen Victoria's reign.

"My Wild Irish Rose" was adapted from the famous old stage success, "The Shaughraun," by Dion Boucicault. It made its debut at the Drury Lane theater, London, in 1876 and since then has been played all over the English speaking world. The plot is an absorbing one; there are spies, informers, "redcoats" and pretty Irish colleens—and in addition there are three love stories, three heroes and three heroines.

The picture has been lavishly produced under the skillful direction of David Smith, who has such successes as "Black Beauty," "Flower of the North" and "The Little Minister" to his credit.

POLA BLEACHES BAD OF "BELLA DONNA"

Pola Negri's first reported wish upon reaching America was, "I don't want to play the part of a bad woman again."

That's probably what Eve remarked when she and Adam had made up after the apple episode. But as a tempter the movies have the original serpent looking like an angel now.

And naturally, by that perverse, Pola's first American part had to be that of a bad woman—an exceedingly bad one, as Hitchens created her.

But the Polish celebrity retaliated by doing the character in such a way that the viciousness of "Bella Donna," the screen version of which opened at the Temple theater last night, was pretty well bleached out. Or was it George Fitzmaurice, director, or his wife, Ouida Bergere, adapting the novel to the screen, who for reasons whatsoever did the bleaching?

It is a tamed Negri who after her hectic past of "Passion" and "Mad Love," interprets the toxic "Bella Donna." She goes so reluctantly about the depravities of the over-ripe woman who had much midnight oil burned over her criticism when she was a best seller.

Conrad Nagel, the impeccable, is excellent as the British husband who nearly loses the lady and his life by slow poison. And Lois Wilson convincingly does the part of the girl who is to be saved.

"Bella's" husbands, a character Hitchens forgot to provide. The two Negris, the one of "Passion" and the one of "Bella Donna," afford a strikingly dramatic contrast between the American and the European background of tradition and current thought as the two continents focus it in motion pictures. Any audience having seen both pictures will catch something of the implications.

"THE PILGRIM" IS CHAPLIN COMEDY CLASSIC

"The Pilgrim," a comedy classic in which Charles Chaplin rises to even greater heights of subtlety than he has ever before attained, began an engagement last night at the Yost theater that threatens to rival in point of popularity his feature, "The Kid."

A four-reel feature production, rich in true humor, it provides entertainment that appeals to all classes of theater-goers and again reveals Chaplin as the greatest living pantomimist.

Thrills, humor and pathos permeate every foot of this film that at once convulses and intrigues the onlooker.

The story is that of an escaped convict who wends his way to Texas after donning the clothes he has stolen from a minister. At the small town where he leaves his train he is mistaken by the congregation of the church for the young minister who had been assigned there.

Thus is "The Pilgrim" unwittingly forced into the pulpit and taken into the home of church leaders. The complications that follow are screamingly funny. There is a precious situation concerning a plum pudding and a derby hat, while Charlie's pantomimic rendering of the story of David and Goliath from the pulpit, without the aid of subtitles, is a bit of incomparable acting.

Chaplin wrote and directed "The Pilgrim." Edna Purviance is again his leading lady and brother Sydney Chaplin and others who have appeared with him in the past are once more to be seen.

HERE THE MAN PAYS!

PARIS, April 26.—Before leaving Cameron, M. Cardé, the governor-general, introduced the marriage custom. He prescribes a species of limited polygamy, four wives for a sub-chief, one for the ordinary person, and faithfulness for all. When a Cameron buck decides to take unto himself a wife, he has to deposit a certain sum with the parents. If she is unfaithful, the money is returned to him. If he breaks his marriage vows, the parents keep the money.

DRIVER FINED $100
ON LIQUOR CHARGE

With charges against Gertrude Quijada dismissed, William Riley Bowles, arrested with her in an automobile at Culver's corner Tuesday, had today paid a $500 fine for transporting intoxicating liquor.

The pair were arrested after their car had become entangled with a telephone pole guy wire. At first the woman gave her name as Mrs. Bowles, but yesterday she admitted that she was not the wife of the defendant.

Both at first pleaded not guilty, but when the charges against the woman were dismissed, Bowles retracted his plea and paid the fine.

WALL ST. JOURNAL FINANCIAL REVIEW

NEW YORK, April 26.—Dullness was the principal feature of today's market. Trading tapered off to virtually the lowest volume of the year. But this inactivity was the strongest argument which could be advanced that the price structure was in a sound position. It demonstrated that the persistent attacks of the professional element to throw the general list in a prolonged reaction had definitely failed and that practically all the liquidation which could be caused by bearish attacks had been completed.

The market was decidedly uninteresting until 2 o'clock. In the last hour, however, the general list developed an improved tone. The market closed irregular.

PRICES IRREGULAR ON CHICAGO BOARD

(By United Press Leased Wire)
CHICAGO, April 26.—Grain prices after reaching new high records for the crop, dropped on the board of trade today as a result of heavy profit taking and more favorable crop weather.
Export business amounting to about 1,000,000 bushels of wheat was worked early in the day while the market was at the peak. Offerings of corn were well taken and buying by commission houses and feeders was general during the morning, but prices slumped with wheat.
The cash demand for oats was fair but country offerings were fairly liberal.
Provisions were lower.

Supplying a Long-felt Need ~ North Broadway Park

Santa Ana's Subdivision Supreme

At last Santa Ana has a beautiful, exclusive and carefully restricted residential park. In the past the builder of a fine home had to risk the erection of inexpensive structures and unsightly variations in building lines in his neighborhood.

Today you can build a beautiful residence on one of the wide, winding boulevards of North Broadway Park, knowing that the surroundings will add rather than detract from its value.

In addition to the highly restricted section, provision has been made for desirable people of moderate means who wish to build an attractive small home in a better class district. The same high character will be maintained but the building restrictions will be reasonable.

What Does "Banking Service" Mean to You

IN selecting a bank, one man seeks only convenience and safety for what he has. The savings account which protects and pay interest on his surplus funds, the checking account for efficient payment of his bills, safe deposit facilities to safeguard his other valuables—these things only he asks of his bank.

Another chooses a bank because its officers have vision to understand his problems, the desire to lend every legitimate assistance to his business advancement and the ability to render those broad, constructive services which make a bank more than a financial storehouse—a vital factor in community progress and prosperity.

Whatever your banking requirements you will find this institution thoroughly equipped to care for them.

VETERAN M'AUFLIFFE TALKS OF NAMESAKE

Ex- lightweight Champ Says No Real Opponent for Dempsey in Sight

BY HENRY L. FARRELL,
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
NEW YORK, April 26.—Jack McAuliffe, the noted Thespian and retired lightweight champion, deserted his makeup box in New England and came back today to look over the heavyweight who is wearing his name.

"Just want to see that bird calling himself Jack McAuliffe and then I'll know what to do," the original fighting Jack said.

"If he doesn't knock over that big comedian Firpo, I'll go after an injunction to pry him loose from that name. If he wants to keep on being a McAuliffe, he'd better be a fighter," the veteran undefeated champion added.

Jack can't see that the big heavyweight card here on March 12 is going to produce a worthy challenger for Jack Dempsey.

"Two of them, Johnson and McAuliffe, hopped the cars to get away from Tommy Gibbons. Willard was through years ago and this fellow Firpo is a big dough prospect and nothing else. There is not a real fighter in that bunch. As long as Harry Willis and Tommy Gibbons are around, they don't need any elimination contests for a couple of fine championship bouts," he said.

Nothing has been done yet by the management of the heavyweight show here on May 12 by a general opinion of the fans that a Willard-Johnson fight would not be much to look at, may result in a switch in the program.

BELL HOP CHALLENGES LOCAL POOL PLAYERS

Pocket billiard players of Santa Ana, regardless of reputation or past performances, are challenged by George Vohl, bell hop at St. Ann's Inn, to a straight pool tournament.

George is serious. "I've guess I've played every guy in this town," he declared. "but I haven't seen a one who could run 75 or 80. I figure I can do that anytime, and I'm looking for someone who thinks he can do as well."

"The tables down here are not as large as at Grauey's in San Francisco or at Brown's in Seattle, so it ought to be easier for the boys to make a big run."

"I challenge all comers."

What to Feed Track Star Saturday Worries S. A. Cooks

Santa Ana high school culinary authorities are in a quandary.

They don't know what to feed the 100 or more athletes who will gather here Saturday afternoon for the annual Southern California track and field meet.

Somebody suggested writing to the high school coaches to ask what victuals those mentors desired their charges eat at noon.

None of the responses have been identified. Harvard Military academy wanted soft boiled eggs and toast. One coach craved roast beef and potatoes. Another asked for poached eggs and toast.

The local high school cafeteria custodians will endeavor to please all concerned.

LYNWOOD TEAM TO APPEAR AT IRVINE PARK NEXT SUNDAY

Undiscouraged despite their second defeat by the strong Anaheim Elks club, members of the Irvine baseball team today were preparing to get some revenge at the expense of the Lynwood nine next Sunday afternoon when the two clubs mingle at Irvine.

The bean town players got their share of the tough breaks against Anaheim especially when "Dutch" Hinrichs was called out at the plate after his apparent home run had tied the count.

Hinrichs and Tyrrell will form the Irvine battery next Sunday, Manager A. J. Trickey announced.

POST OFFICE LOSES TO CHURCH PLAYERS

They staged a combination track meet and baseball game at the Santa Ana Y. M. C. A. athletic field here last night when the indoor teams of the First Congregational church and the Post Office mingled.

When the affair was halted the church team's side of the scorebook showed 37 runs while the mail slingers had to be content with 7 digits.

The congregationalists hammered three of Uncle Sam's employees all over the lot and played a good defensive game.

Harvey, E. Berry, Baird, C. Berry, S. Bullock, R. Bullock, Twaite, White, Palmer, Warren and Wilde played for the P. O.'s. Belcher, Spicer, Bigelow, Nick, Thomas, Wilcox, Cole, Ward, McConnell and Green ran up the church team's total.

JUNIOR HIGH NINE BEATS ORANGE, 12-3

Triple Play Features Tilt; Meissinger, Hill Star For Local Team

The Santa Ana Junior high school baseball nine defeated the Orange high school second team, at the Lincoln field, in a practice game by the score of 12 to 3.

Santa Ana won by its heavy slugging and slightly superior field work. Both Santa Ana pitchers, Nelson and Hurd, showed good headwork and were given wonderful support in the field.

Orange rallied in the last frame and it looked as if Hurd would have to be yanked, but the side was retired on a brilliant triple play. At the beginning of the inning Long singled, and scored on Thompson's double. Thompson went to third on Fitzgerald's single.

Weiss walked, filling the bases. Brickell hit a fly to Smith in right field. By a pretty peg home, Smith caught Thompson at the plate. Fitzgerald lit out for third, and was nabbed on a fast throw from Dely to Nava.

Liston ("Memphis") Hill showed versatility both in field and at bat for the locals. Meissinger also played well.

EXPECT MANY LOCAL ANGLERS AT RESORT

When the trout season opens May 1, scores of Santa Ana fishing enthusiasts are expected to trek toward Capistrano Hot Springs, according to L. Eyraud, proprietor, who today declared that fishing should be excellent at his resort this year.

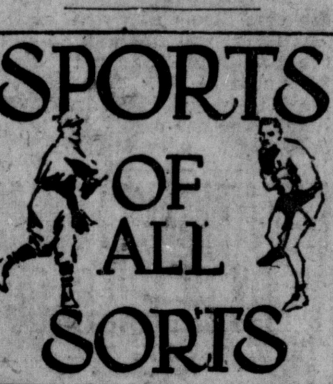

"Last year," Eyraud said, "several trout more than twelve inches long were landed at Capistrano Hot Springs. With ten thousand trout having been planted in our streams last summer we expect many anglers to be well rewarded for their efforts."

He's Poly Hero As Locals Qualify In Relay Preliminary

ARNOLD STROSHEIM, star Santa Ana high school sprinter, whose sensational burst of speed in the last lap of the relay at Occidental field yesterday enabled the local baton team to qualify for the finals here Saturday.

Strosheim began the final 220 yard behind but he passed one runner, picked up four yards on Pollock, the Pasadena flash, and finished second in the race.

General admission tickets for the Southern California track and field meet, to be held at Poly field next Saturday afternoon, may be procured only at the gate, D. K. Hammond, principal of the Santa Ana high school, announced today.

These, which will cost fifty cents, will entitle the holders to the best seats available in the grandstand on the "first come, first served" plan. There will be no public sale of the pasteboards in Santa Ana or elsewhere in the South. Student tickets are on sale at the various high schools in the Southland this week.

Camille street, between Ross and Parton streets, will be closed to traffic after 12 o'clock Saturday under orders of the Santa Ana city council and the local street department.

Arrangements have been made whereby automobiles may be parked on the high school grounds at the rate of fifty cents a machine. The cars may be driven to the fence surrounding the field on the east side. This will allow the occupants of the automobiles to see plainly all of the events.

Ninety student tickets, which sell at twenty-five cents each, were purchased by members of the Santa Ana Rotary club at their meeting at St. Ann's Inn Tuesday. The members will present these tickets to Santa Ana youths who cannot afford to pay their way to see the meet. Forty tickets were taken by the Kiwanis club yesterday for the same purpose. The Lions club was expected to take a large allotment at its gathering today.

"One of the reasons in holding the meet here," Principal Hammond said, "is to give our young boys an object lesson in the advantages of clean living. When they see the training necessary for triumphs on the track and field, it will encourage them to live cleanly. For this reason we desire as many of our city's young persons to see the meet as possible. The clubs have readily co-operated with us in this movement."

Alex Brownridge, president of the Santa Ana board of education, and for years a prominent athletic booster here, will present the medals and cups to the athletes at the conclusion of the meet.

The numerous awards, including the large perpetual trophy which was donated by a Los Angeles newspaper several years ago and which was won by the Huntington Beach high school team last season, now are on display in the windows of the Lively sporting goods store, 216 East Fourth street.

A regular meeting of the officials of the California Interscholastic Federation, Southern Section, will be held in the high school cafeteria at noon Saturday. The members will discuss plans relative to the meet and also the state high school classic for which men who place in the All-Southern are eligible to enter.

An exclusive men's shoe store can give better shoe service—Andrew J. Harby, 118 East Fourth street.

ORANGE COUNTY RUNNERS QUALIFY FOR ALL-SOUTHERN FINALS HERE SATURDAY

The Santa Ana, Huntington Beach and Fullerton entrants in the track events for the annual Southern California track and field meet to be held here Saturday today had safely emerged from the trying preliminary tests held at Patterson field, Los Angeles, yesterday.

As a result, the chances of the Orange county schools placing high in the big classic were excellent. None of the teams suffered reversals and, for the most part, dogs ran true to form in the preliminaries.

Arnold Strosheim, Poly's fleet short distance runner, qualified for the 220 yard dash, one of nine runners. Otto Gardner came through nicely in the low hurdles. Bob Vawter placed high enough to assure his presence when the half-milers are called to their marks for the finals. The Santa Ana relay team, thanks to a beautiful concluding lap by Strosheim, finished the half-mile race second, a few yards behind Pasadena which established a new national interscholastic mark for the distance.

The Huntington Beach Aces, Ross Nichols and Charlie Bickmore, gave the wise ones a lot to think about when they easily romped through their heats in the high hurdles for first places. Nichols ran his heat in 16 seconds flat for a new All-Southern record. Bickmore's time was 16 1/2. Milt Nash annexed his heat in the quarter-mile in the rapid time of 52 3/5, the fastest of the afternoon.

Both Cliff and Ralph Allee, the Fullerton 440 men, qualified for the finals here. Cliff won his heat in 52 4/5. Ralph was third in a 53 4/5 race.

From a Santa Ana standpoint the first heat of the half-mile relay was the most thrilling of the day. Otto Gardner, the locals' first lap man, had just completed his heat in the low hurdles and was not prepared to race again so quickly. He got away to a good start but was passed by the other runners. Thoburn, running the Poly second lap, began last but managed to sprint past one sprinter and gain on all of the others but Pasadena.

Captain Rabe ran a pretty third lap for the locals. He ate up a lot of the intervening distance between Santa Ana and the leaders and gave Strosheim a start in a third race, approximately eight yards behind the Venice last lap man and Pollock, the Pasadena boy.

Strosheim's running was nothing if not sensational. Taking it easy for the first 100 yards, the fellow opened up on the home stretch, passed the Venice runner like a bullet and fairly ate up the ground between him and Pollock. The Pasadena time of 1 min. 32 seconds set a new national prep school mark for the distance. The old record was held by the Lewis Institute quartette of Chicago and was made in 1903.

Strosheim finished two yards behind Pollock in the latter broke the tape in 22 2/5 seconds.

Gardner was placed in the same heat of the low sticks with Burgard, the Hollywood boy, who recently established a new city record for the barrier event. Burgard led Gardner over the first hurdle, but the Poly runner took the lead from there and won in a canter in 27 flat. Gardner is believed to have an excellent chance to win the low hurdle race Saturday.

Bob Vawter took the lead from the start in the first heat of the half-mile and lead until the runners hit the home stretch. He took it easy from there on and placed fifth enough to let him in the finals. The time of the race was 2:04 3/5.

The results of the preliminaries: 880-yard run, first heat—Barr

KIWANIS CLUB GRABS VOLLEY BALL TANGLE

Members of the Santa Ana Kiwanis club volleyball team today were gloating over the local Rotary club team following their 2 to 1 victory at the Santa Ana Y. M. C. A. court last night. The Kiwanians won the first game, the Rotarians took the second and the Kiwanians annexed the match by finishing ahead in the third struggle.

Marshall Keeler, W. H. Spurgeon, Jr., Elmer Heidt, Dr. M. A. Patton, Dr. Harvey Stryker, and Robert Brown "did their stuff" for the Rotary club. Keeler captained the team.

The Kiwanians had F. C. Blauer, R. R. Miller, E. L. Crawford, Nat H. Neff, Bob Fernandez and E. W. Lieve.

POLY TENNIS PLAYERS MEET ANAHEIM TEAM

The Santa Ana high school tennis team, undefeated in match play this season, this afternoon went into action against the Anaheim high school racket wielders, prepared to tighten its hold at the top of the Orange league standing in this sport.

The boys' matches were to be played on the Poly court. The girls' games were to be decided at the Mother Colony.

The Misses Frances Cocroft, Josephine Crookshank, Enid Twist and Thelma Patton were to play the girls' singles and doubles. John Cress, Randolph Bell, Rudolph Romo and Raymond Smith were to compose the local boy's squad. Miss Vada Freiburg and Keith Beisel were to play mixed doubles.

FIGHT RESULTS

SAN FRANCISCO—Pat Lester, protégé of "Spider" Kelly and hailed by Kelly as a coming rival of Jack Dempsey, had no chance to show his stuff here last night. Kid Lee, matched against him, stopped four punches in four seconds of the first round and decided that was enough.

On Porch or Deck

THE paint that goes forth to sea on the decks of ships must be able to withstand the blistering heat of the sun's rays, the driving rain, and the dashing of waves over the ships' decks in storms. The porch, too, must brave the elements and yet keep spick and span to "welcome the coming, speed the parting guest."

BASS-HUETER

Porch and Deck Paint

answers the needs of both home and ship. Bass-Hueter Paints are not only used by owners of yachts, launches and motor boats, but by the United States Shipping Board and a number of privately owned lines. While the chief use of Bass-Hueter Porch and Deck Paint is for porches and steps, you will realize that a paint we can recommend for the deck of a ship is bound to prove successful for your home.

When you next need to repaint these entrances to your home, insist on Bass-Hueter Porch and Deck Paint. It comes in several shades of gray and tan, as well as drab and light brown. Full directions for applying are on every can.

Our booklet "Paint Facts" or "The Way to Beautiful Homes" will be mailed free upon request. It tells how paint should be used and suggests various color combinations for interior and exterior painting.

ORANGE COUNTY NEWS

TALK ON MUSIC IS HEARD AT VILLA PARK

VILLA PARK, April 26.—Friday evening the P. T. A. held an evening meeting at the hall instead of the usual afternoon meeting. Business was dispensed with until the May meeting and a program was given, Miss Marjory Caldwell playing the accompaniment to the children's songs.

Mrs. White gave the following talk on her work in the school: "Tonight we are going to endeavor to put on a program that will give us a great deal of fun and a great deal of educational value as well."

"Separate and apart from the regular music course I was engaged to teach in Villa Park I have given the Music Appreciation course, which I had the privilege of taking at the State college in San Francisco last summer."

"I have given it because I loved it, and because in my ten years' experience of teaching I have never found a subject that would contribute so much toward culture and refinement as this course, and I have felt that could I succeed in planting the seed of real appreciation in the hearts of the children, my work would live after me."

"At least I have prepared the soil and any work that may be given along that line in the future will be appreciated by the children."

"You have now $40 worth of victrola records ordered at my request, taking up primitive Indian music, which we discovered was made up of five tones, and expresses mood, rhythm with very little melody. We have music from all the different countries and folk songs from many countries."

"We have the Peer Gynt Leitte records and the children have been made familiar with the life of Edward Grieg, the composer, and the story of the opera. We have learned to listen and understand in part the different records."

"When morning is played we picture sunrise in Africa and listen for the awakening of nature."

"In Antilla dance we see a beautiful maiden dancing before Peer Gynt, who poses as some great personage."

ORANGE ORCHESTRA INVITED TO PLAY FOR L. A. SOCIETY

ORANGE, April 26.—The Orange Union high school orchestra has been invited to play at the annual meeting of the Shakespeare club of Southern California, which will be held in the Los Angeles Philharmonic auditorium on May 4.

In addition to playing during the presentation of "As You Like It" by the club, the Orange students will play for KJL, the Times radio broadcasting station, during the noon hour.

Percy Richards, the conductor of the orchestra, is quite elated over the honor which has been bestowed upon it and is carefully rehearsing the pieces which are to be played.

Many people will remember that it was this forty-piece orchestra which won the Orange county musical contest last year. Judging from present appearances it bids fair to repeat its performance again this spring.

ANNEXATION IS HELD UP WEEK AT ORANGE

ORANGE, April 26.—Forced to revamp election proceedings, owing to an inadvertent error in the publication of a legal notice in a Santa Ana newspaper, the city board of trustees in regular session fixed a new date for an annexation vote by residents of the West Chapman district, comprising about one hundred acres, west of here.

The new election date fixed by the board is Friday, May 25—one week later than the original date, which was Friday, May 18.

Meanwhile, the board through its legal staff is preparing a new election notice which will be published some time this week in a Santa Ana publication.

Can't Correct Error
The inadvertent error occurring in the legal notice was such that it could not be corrected and republished and make the proceedings meet legal requirements.

Hence, it became necessary for the board to commence proceedings in connection with the election date anew, causing a delay of about a week.

New Tract Seeks Entrance
Meantime, it became known that another tract of land, lying just outside the proposed annexation area is seeking inclusion in the city.

The citrus property belonging to F. E. Miles, former local grocer, located on South Batavia street, south of Almond avenue is the territory seeking to be included within the corporate limits of the city.

However, legal opinion called into the situation stated that unless the city board starts annexation proceedings anew, this tract, which consists of about five acres, cannot annex to Orange save by independent action.

BEACH PLAYERS REHEARSING NEW PIECES

LAGUNA BEACH, April 26.—The Laguna Beach Community Players are rehearsing four new plays to be presented Friday and Saturday, May 4 and 5 and May 11 and 12.

They will also repeat the two plays that were such a success last month, "The Sidhe of Ben-Mor," an Irish play by Ruth Sawyer, and "Overtones" by Alice Gerstenberg.

The cast of the Irish play will be composed by Annie Gayne Peake, Mabelle Lord Frost, Doris Messinger, Victor Rankin, Charlotte Brown, Doris Goff, Beatrice Allen and "Peter."

Virginia Champion, Alyse Wakelee, Lyle Rankin and Marie Thurston, make the "Overtones" cast. The new plays and their casts follow:

"A Sunny Morn." Spanish play by the Brothers Quinteros; cast, Elmer E. Jahraus, Alyse Wakelee, Mrs. Vernon Murphy, Victor de Llanas.

Chinese play; cast, Catherine Strode, Royal Silva, Hedwig Boymann, Alice Hall.

"For Distinguished Service," by Florence C. Knox; cast, Jeanne De Anna, Kay Swan, Alice Hall.

"The Bank Account," cast, Borghild Leren, Hewig Boymann, Raymond J. Shulte.

The Community club's Monday evening card party was held at the Community rooms as usual.

Mr. and Mrs. Seeres were host and hostesses this week.

PERSONAL NOTES OF LAGUNA BEACH

LAGUNA BEACH, April 26.—The local Parent-Teachers' association had a very successful sale of candy and cooked food last Saturday, from which they cleared over $40.

The ladies were so pleased with the outcome of the sale that they are planning to repeat it soon.

SANTA ANA SOCIETY DRAWS FIVE GIRLS

HUNTINGTON BEACH, April 26.—Five Huntington Beach girls were initiated into the Young Ladies' Institute of Santa Ana at the Knights of Columbus hall Tuesday evening. The initiation was described as "very stringent."

The girls initiated were Gertrude, Margaret and Theresa Hallicy, Corinne Nadeau, Lillian Paerzok.

INCORPORATION OF TUSTIN IS PROPOSED

TUSTIN, April 26.—Incorporation or annexation? That important matter will be debated Monday night at the regular meeting of the Tustin chamber of commerce at 7:30 o'clock in the high school auditorium building.

Everett A. White, president of the Santa Ana Realty board, will speak on "The Advantages of Annexation to Santa Ana." "The Advantages of Incorporation" will be discussed by W. A. Childers of Santa Ana.

"The Disadvantages of Both" will be set forth by Principal J. W. Means of the Tustin high school.

Other important matters, such as street lights and street signs, will be taken up and acted upon at the meeting.

With the fast growth of Tustin the sentiment for incorporation is said to have increased while that for annexation has been on the wane. One result of the meeting April 30 may be the calling of an election to vote upon the two propositions.

With virtually the future of this little city at stake every Tustin citizen with the interests of his community at heart has been urged to attend.

GARDEN GROVE, April 26.—Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Watson visited in the W. M. Adland home Thursday afternoon, guests of Mr. and Mrs. Roberts, parents of Mrs. Adland.

F. H. Felberg left Tuesday for Gilman's relief hot springs for a few days rest.

Miss Elizabeth Killmaster and Miss Mildred Harris, nurses at the Seaside hospital of Long Beach were week end guests at the S. S. Jackson home.

Miss Opal Robbins and Mrs. D. C. Hogue were dinner guests at the C. T. Ferrell home in Anaheim.

BID ACCEPTED FOR WORK ON WATER LINE

COSTA MESA, April 26.—The trustees of the Newport Heights irrigation district have let the contract for a new street pipe irrigation system costing approximately $160,000. Work will commence soon. This will be a big improvement to the district as the pipe lines will be much larger and will cover the whole territory completely, assuring ample supply of water to all, both for domestic and irrigation purposes.

Mr. Bremer of Anaheim, who owns four acres on the Newport boulevard between Seventeenth and Eighteenth streets, has started construction of a home, and also of a modern garage, and oil station. He will also subdivide the four acres into lots. This is one of the best locations on the mesa and will sell rapidly.

Mr. Bremer is an expert garage man, having been very successful in Anaheim. His wife is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Swinney, of Costa Mesa. K. H. Hinkle is doing the masonry work. Emil Greener the wood-work.

A fine play was given Tuesday evening at the club house in Costa Mesa by the Newport and Balboa Community players. It was well attended and very creditably given. The proceeds were very kindly given to the Ladies' Friday Afternoon club to apply on the new building fund.

The Costa Mesa Chamber of Commerce will hold their regular meeting in the club house Thursday evening. A very interesting meeting is planned. Linn Shaw of the Harbor board will be principal speaker.

The Saturday evening dance at the club house was well attended. The music was fine and all enjoyed the evening. The net proceeds amounted to $90. This will be applied to the ladies' club building fund. Another dance will be given Saturday evening, May 5th.

HUNTINGTON BEACH, April 26.—A second troop was formed by the Huntington Beach Boy Scouts at the meeting held this week in the Methodist church. In the new troop will be Sunset Beach scouts and boys who are not members of Troop No. 1 in Huntington Beach. C. E. Morris, scoutmaster, will have charge of both troops.

A surprise birthday party was given at the home of Mrs. B. R. Day at Harperville in honor of Mrs. M. Doan of Dinuba, Friday evening, April 20. The house was prettily decorated in Spring flowers. Mrs. Doan was the recipient of many beautiful gifts. The center of attraction was a beautiful cake lighted with candles. At a late hour dainty refreshments were served.

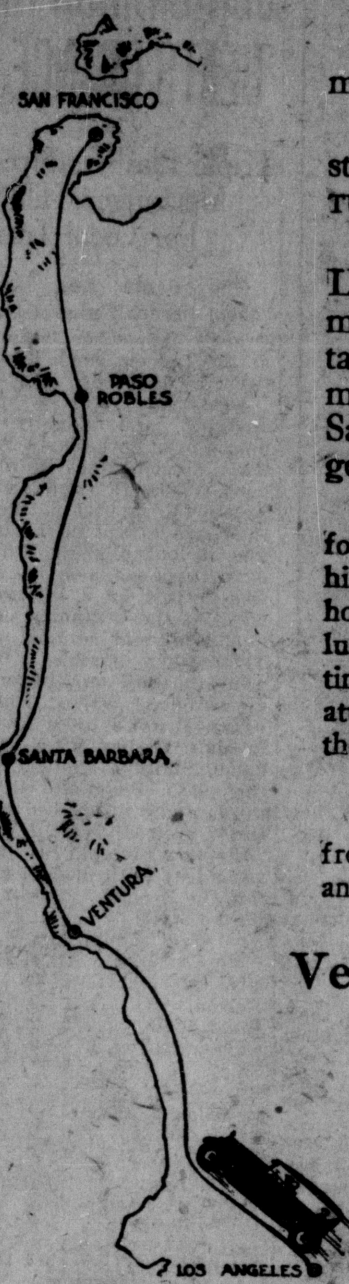

Mr. and Mrs. Austin Walline of Ontario were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Hogue. Mrs. Wallace is a sister of Mrs. Hogue's.

Mrs. Gordon Woolley was pleasantly surprised at a farewell party given in her honor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. R. Day Monday, April 23. Mrs. Woolley has been visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Day and Miss Marguerite Dixon. The guest of honor was presented with a beautiful bouquet of American beauty roses. At a late hour dainty refreshments were served by Mrs. Day assisted by Mrs. M. Doan and Miss Marguerite Dixon.

Harriett Brown gave a history of the madonnas. Helen Holt sang a solo, "Boy of Nine." Claire Newman favored them with two Indian lullabies. Ruth Lott rendered a piano solo. After the program, games were played.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Holt entertained a number of friends Monday evening. The evening was spent playing Rook after which refreshments were served. Those present were, Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Smith, Helen Walker, Lora Holt, Harriett Brown, Kenneth Dungan, Paul Spring and Virgil Brown.

Terrific Test in Second Gear

In second gear for 450 miles at 29 miles an hour!

That's the record set by a Lexington stock touring car, lubricated with VENTURA Motor Oil.

For nearly sixteen hours the sturdy Lexington, with its wonderful Ansted motor, roared steadily over the mountains and through the valleys at 33 to 35 miles per hour, from Los Angeles to San Francisco—450 miles with the gears sealed in second!

Such an endurance record was a terrific test for both the oil and the motor. Running at high speed—2000 revolutions per minute—hour after hour, the motor required perfect lubrication to bring it safely through. At no time during the gruelling trip, did the temperature of the radiator water show higher than the average summer heat!

Let VENTURA Motor Oil protect your motor from wear. You can buy it at service stations and garages displaying the Red V trademark.

WOMAN'S HEALTH RESTORED

She Claims Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Did It After Everything Else Failed

Milwaukee, Wis.—"I feel that I ought to let you know about my case. I was sitting and could barely get my housework and washing I was so run-down, just from having one child. I took a lot of medicines and had doctors. Then I gave them all up and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I feel wonderfully good now. I do every thing that I want to do, and I feel like I am a new woman. I am thankful for the Vegetable Compound because it has done for my health and for my family."

Letters like these testify to the value of the Vegetable Compound. These women speak from the fullness of their hearts. They describe as correctly as they can their conditions: First, those symptoms that affected them most conspicuously; and later the disappearance of those symptoms. They are sincere expressions of gratitude. For nearly fifty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been so praised by women.

WOMAN'S HEALTH RESTORED

Ruddy Cheeks—Sparkling Eyes
Most Women Can Have

Says Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known Ohio Physician

Dr. F. M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. You will know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system.

If you have a pale face, sallow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results.

Thousands of women and men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the successful substitute for calomel—now and then just to keep them fit and healthy.

MEMBERS OF THE CLUB TO GRADUATE

USE OF ALUMINUM IS DEMONSTRATED AT BEACH DINNER

HUNTINGTON BEACH, April 26.—Dinner cooked in demonstration aluminum featured the regular meeting of the Women's club yesterday afternoon.

Following an entertaining and instructive talk by W. P. King concerning the proper ways to cook food in aluminum kettles and pans, the women partook of roast beef, potatoes, and gravy, a hot griddle cake and coffee as an illustration of properly prepared food.

Members of the club assisted in the demonstration. Mrs. Louis F. Gates held two small rods in a gas fire until she nearly burned her fingers, proving how much more quickly and evenly aluminum will heat than iron.

The class is busy preparing for their graduation exercises which will probably be held the last day of May or first of June as school is scheduled to close June 1 this year. No definite plans aside from the choice of new officers and adoption of the girls' costume have been made, however, four members of the class placed in the five chosen to compete in the final reading contest.

The members of the class as it stands today are as follows: Marjorie Archer, Pauline Black, Pearl Black, Zelma Brown, Dorothy Crawford, Burnett Du Butz, Pearl Dowty, Marian Gleave, Elizabeth Evelyn Manso, Bessie Masonheimer, Adda Ross, Betty Snyder, Virginia Ward, Phyllis Whiteside, Maimie Whitson, Nola Wilton, Gladys Woolley, Catherine Bray.

Angeline Brown, Alberta Chamberlain, Lillian Colburn, Marian Elliott, Vivian Greenwood, Aldean Higby, Phyllis Jones, Alta Kellerman, Mary Mollica.

Helen Reynolds, Ames Reese, Wilma Roberts, Arvilla Singer, Hortense Strang, Nema Teague, Sarah Turner, Josephine Vincent, Dorothy White.

Bonnie Williams, Howard Blount, Bernard Clegg, Billy Clifton, Earl Crockett.

Ivan Elkins, Dale Grable, Warren Grau, Leslie Hall, Lee Harp, Earl Hawkins, Marlow Johnson, Clifford Lockhart.

Charles Mills, Sidney Parker, Will Seltzer, Richard Sullivan, Irvin Turner, Everett Villa, Harold Watson, Eugene Belshie, George Cowley, Stanley Cook.

Roscoe Hensby, Frank Jones, Owen Peters, Joseph Sharp, Frank Stewart, Alva Woolley, Gerald Moore, Wilfred Lake.

Harry Ward, Lee Legate, John Stevens, Onson Cooper, Wilfred Lake.

PROFESSOR B. E. LECTURE

HUNTINGTON BEACH, April 26.—Prudence Penny and her "50-50" lecture will be the drawing card at the next meeting of the Women's club, May 8. It was announced at the regular meeting held yesterday afternoon.

The club voted to make it an open meeting so that all of the women may receive the benefits of her address.

Prudence Penny is well known and loved by the women of the Beach as she gave one of the most profitable and entertaining programs of the club season last year. The women feel particularly honored because they have been informed that the famous home authority is giving very little time to club engagements this year.

Mrs. Violet Webster, chairman of the social committee, is in charge of arrangements.

The hostesses of the afternoon will be the Mesdames Bessie Larter, F. H. McElfresh, William Kelly and Margaret Talbert.

The Boy Scouts report the "time of their lives" at the dance which they gave last Thursday evening in the Women's club. Each boy brought "his girl" and the jokes and jollification are still the talk of the town.

Lots five and six, block 118, between Eighteenth and Nineteenth on Ocean avenue, were purchased yesterday by H. Cockingham for the purpose of erecting an apartment house. F. B. Stevens has been the transaction for Mr. Cockingham who is one of the owners of the local telephone company.

Mr. and Mrs. M. A. McCreey and son Bobbie, of Santa Ana, spent Monday visiting friends at the beach. Mr. McCreey was formerly secretary of the local Chamber of Commerce.

Seven members of the local club will attend the county convention to be held at Yorba Linda, Friday, April 27. The delegates from the club are Mrs. Louis F. Gates, Mrs. A. M. O'Brien, Mrs. Joseph Vavra, Mrs. H. Larter and Miss Mary Turner. Mrs. H. T. Dunning will go as the president president of the club and Mrs. May Jackson will attend as the county chairman of Political Science and Legislation.

Dick Acklin, big boss of the Double A ranch, plots with Buck Bodine, new owner of the old Webster place, to rob the Basques of Paradise Valley of their water supply. Esteban Arrascaeta leads the Basques in an attack on the Double A ranch and being wounded, is carried into Acklin's home.

Jose, father of Esteban, starts in search of his son and is shot and killed from ambush. Jose was called "Old Ironsides."

NOW GO ON WITH STORY CHAPTER XIII

LONG before the first faint hint of dawn had faded the sky, the Rancho Buena Vista was awake. Mercedes was up. First her brother and then her father had ridden away and had failed to return.

Unable to stand inaction any longer, she left the house and walked as far as the creek-bottom where her father had crossed, listening for any sound that might announce his return.

When Mercedes returned with only Henaro, Mercedes' face felt. She had not known that her father had sent the other men to the railroad with sheep. But she lost no time in despatching the vaquero for Kent. Old Mariano was put to service; she sent him to Ugarde's place, because it was nearest.

"Don't come back until you find him," she ordered. "At daylight I will go myself to the Bull's Head."

Loping along in the still uncertain light, Mercedes' mind centered on the Bull's Head and what she would find there. Acklin's shadow darkened all of her thoughts. But even so she became aware of the insistence of the coyotes.

Mercedes sent her horse into a gallop. When she topped a shallow arroyo her heart stopped beating as she caught sight of her father's powerful bay standing riderless, his head lowered and sweeping from side to side.

Ringed about him, red tongues sliding out over their wet fangs, crouched the coyote pack. Mercedes slipped her gun at them; they slunk away.

She walked her pinto to where the other horse stood swaying. And then—there at his feet, she saw the huddled body of her father.

Mercedes got to her knees and felt her father's cold hand. She promised herself she would be brave; that she would not give away. Then with sickening heart, she saw the terrible wound. Ten days her hands caressed his snow-white beard and hair; his cheeks so cold; the fine strong forehead, rugged even in death.

Trance-like, she got to her feet and picked up Jose's rifle. She broke it to find that it had not been discharged. She laid it beside him. The big bay watched her carefully.

There came then, down Smoky Canon, the pitter-patter of a horse. Mercedes caught sight of him as he struck the fence that stretched back into the rocky divide. With a thrill she recognized Kildare.

When Blaze saw who it was ahead of him, his knees bowed under his horse's sides, and My Man raced to where Mercedes stood. The grim figure on the ground, the over-wrought girl, and the empty-saddled bay told their own story. The message he brought her would have to wait now.

He got down beside Jose and examined the torn chest.

"A long-range gun and a high-power bullet did this," he told her. After he got to his feet he scanned the ragged rim-rocks nervously; sought for an excuse to get the girl away. "You'd better ride to the hacienda and get a rig; that is, if you think you're able to make it."

"If you will wait, I'll go at once," Mercedes answered.

Impulsively she placed her hand on his head. In low tones she murmured: "There is a Basque historia . . . what you call . . . a . . . saying: 'La verdad es amarga; quiten la dulce de la vida.' The truth is bitter; he who speaks like that to these eaters these very much." Mercedes panted. The man's eyes held her own. "We will speak the truth to each other, I guess, Señor."

CHAPTER XIV Bitter Words

HURRIEDLY Blaze turned Jose's face downward and pulled the old man's coat over his head. Quickly then he tore off his own shirt and vest, and draped them over a dead sage-brush. On top of it he placed his hat. The result was a crude scare-crow.

Leaping into his saddle, he galloped off before the feathered scavengers should return to discover his deception.

When he gained the rim-rocks, Blaze crawled on hands and knees to their edge. For twenty yards, he studied the decayed rock. He came to a flat spot, three yards square. Fine sand filled the pockets in the decomposed granite. In one of these there was the unmistakable clasp of a boot-strap. Blaze slipped it out, examined it, and stretched his length as he imagined the assassin had done. The distance from toe-mark to elbow was a good five inches longer than the impressions his own body made.

Without disturbing the sand, Blaze searched for other signs that might tell him something. In a hollow, about where the waist of the assailant should have come, he discovered the die-clear stamp of a Navajo luck-charm. The outlines were clear and distinct.

Kildare's brow wrinkled as he stared at the cryptic Indian letters. The lower tip of the swastika was bent inward.

A PUZZLE A DAY

The mystic triangle shown above is said by certain scholars to have been inscribed upon the mummy case of an Egyptian pharaoh. It is supposed to be the mystic sign of the Egyptian deities, Isis, Osiris and Thoth. The triangle is equilateral, and contains 16 smaller equilateral triangles. The most remarkable thing about it, however, is the fact that the design may be drawn in one continuous line, without lifting the pencil from the paper, and without going over any line twice. Can you solve the problem?

Three sixes can be made into the number seven by writing them as shown above, so they represent six and six-sixths. As six-sixths is one, the number therefore represents seven.

EVENING SALUTATION

Only the worm of conscience consorts with the owl. Sinners and evil spirits shun the light.

PERSONAL SERVICE

Of what does good citizenship consist? What are its opportunities, privileges and obligations? In the last analysis does it not resolve itself into personal service?

It is well, of course to be a member of the Chamber of Commerce, of the Kiwanis Club, or Rotary Club, or Lions Club, of the Realty Board, of the Greater Santa Ana Club. But merely to join and pay dues, and even to attend regularly and talk long and loud, will avail not at all without real unselfish, loyal personal service.

Every man owes the community in which he lives and society at large a certain amount of personal service. Personal service is the rent we pay for the space we occupy on earth. And yet it is only a form of enlightened self-interest for an individual's prosperity is never, in the long-run, greater than that of the community in which he does business.

Individual effort is imperative and vital to the up-building of a prosperous community and the maintenance of such conditions; and yet a community of interest and co-ordination of purpose must be recognized as the essential things with which to accomplish the objects desired.

Every business man, every citizen, every person should check himself up as to the personal service which he is giving to his community. Unless there is this personal service on the part of the greater number of the people, service with no thought of individual gain, then the community will lack the prosperity which will inevitably follow conjoined effort and unselfish interest on the part of its citizens.

TWO VIEWS OF IMMIGRATION

The statement of Judge Gary, head of the U. S. Steel Corporation, that the present immigration law is "the worst thing that ever happened in this country economically, brought a prompt answer from Washington. Secretary of Labor Davis, representing the administration, says:

"It is unnecessary to point out the evil of throwing open the gates at a time of prosperity in order to flood the country with workers and non-workers whose very presence would serve to bring prosperity to an end. It is a short-sighted policy to seek cheap labor through immigration."

Representative Johnson, chairman of the house immigration committee, speaking for Congress, suggests that the "Steel Trust" has not done so badly, in spite of restrictive immigration, with net earnings of $410,000,000 in 1922, and adds:

"If the immigration laws are revised, for every immigrant who will come to the United States as a possible employee of the Steel Corporation or other corporation, nine will come to drag down the living standard of the United States. Cheap labor makes a cheap country."

This latter view seems bound to prevail. The majority of Americans no longer regard unlimited immigration as sound policy or good business.

ARMY FLYING HAZARDOUS

Army flying is a hazardous business. During the period from 1919 to 1922 eight out of every 100 army air pilots have been killed outright and two have been incapacitated for further service. Army officials explain that this high casualty percentage was unavoidable because of the very nature of army experimental flying. It must include all sorts of formation and stunt flying incidental to pursuit and combat training.

As planes are improved, some of the hazards of this type of planing will be removed. Many will not. Army aviation, as the New York Times remarks, "is a man's job". In fact it is a hero's job, since every man who undertakes it risks his life to advance the science of aviation and to strengthen the national defense. Much that the army flyers learn is used to advantage in commercial flying and partly explains why the latter is so much safer. And so the world in peace or war is in these brave men's debt.

As the Times points out, because of the risk he runs and the service he renders, the army flyer should be well paid and he and his dependents assured ample provision in case of accident.

WATCH THE BOOZE FLEET

The news that the President had decided the "booze fleet" operating off the Atlantic coast must go was welcome to the country. The fleet has been a blot on the good name of the United States government.

Action is to be taken against the small craft, mostly swift powerboats, which act as lighters, bringing the liquor to shore from the ships that lie at anchor just beyond the three-mile limit. It is explained that the enforcement officers have been unable to cope with them so far, for lack of fast boats of their own. They should be provided with craft that have not only the necessary power and speed, but have guns mounted on their decks. The offenders, guilty at the same time of smuggling and breaking the Volstead law, deserve no consideration.

It may be possible also to accomplish something with the booze ships that bring the liquor as far as the international line and distribute it there. If any of them are American, there are established ways of dealing with them calling only for an adequate prohibition navy. As for the foreign craft, their troublesome activity might be discouraged, if not prevented, by diplomacy. No friendly government should approve such traffic as they are engaged in.

With that seaboard smuggling stopped, there might be a beginning of real prohibition in the United States.

THE BECKONING OUTDOORS

May 7 is the date set for the opening of the National Travel and Outdoor Life Exposition in the Chicago Coliseum. The playgrounds of America will be represented there, and no one not wholly immune to the lure of nature will come away without a nice new craving for adventure.

There will be exhibits of live game, fish, fur-bearing animals and Indian guides. From New England and the Far West, from North and South, there will be representations of the playgrounds of those varied climes.

In addition to the bits of nature thus held before the admiring eyes of visitors there will be exhibits of modes of travel. Automobile bungalows with their many conveniences and comfort, gypsy cars, houses on wheels and camp trailers will show how easy it is to take the road—if you have the time and the cash for equipment. One such touring bungalow is said to be 26 feet long, with kitchenette, bath, hot and cold water, folding beds, drawing room and an observation platform which corresponds to the sunroom of the modern home.

All the lesser equipment of the unpretentious traveler—fishing tackle, simple camping outfits and the accoutrements of sportsmen—will be on view.

Let's see. How many weeks till vacation time? And how much money in the vacation fund?

The Super-Leviathan

San Diego Union.
Another unsinkable ocean liner is being planned. This time it is no ordinary great ship, but a monster vessel too large for any harbor in America or Europe, 15 decks in height, weighing 100,000 tons and offering accommodations for 20,000 passengers at a trip. The two French navy engineers planning it have announced that years of experiment have devised a construction that would make the giant liner unsinkable.

Another defiance hurled at the sea, by pigmies rearing titans to defy the gods. Yet that word, "unsinkable" has forever a treacherous and ominous connotation.

Under fathoms of green water off the north Atlantic coast there lies the rusting hull of one "unsinkable" floating palace. It is—or was—the White Star liner Titanic, sunk by an iceberg in the month of April, 11 years ago. In the pitch dark of early morning, 11 years ago, no fewer than 1517 human beings gave up their lives in the disaster that shattered one dream of man's mastery over the sea, and caused millions to rail bitterly at the expert judgment that had marked the Titanic as "unsinkable."

Nothing is impossible any longer, and the Le Parmentier brothers' plan for a liner carrying 20,000 passengers in luxury may be more than a newspaper dream. Yet at that word "unsinkable" we halt.

The giant liner of 100,000 tons would, after all, be only a speck on the vast expanse of the Atlantic—a speck as unstable and insignificant as a single dancing mote in a broad shaft of sunlight. Forces a million times more powerful than the utmost effort of its great engines would play idly all about it on the smoothest sea. Just as we hesitate to say that anything is impossible to the powers of man, so we must hesitate to proclaim anything impossible to the relentless forces of the ocean. Almost we incline to believe that no unsinkable ship ever will be, or ever can be, built.

Mystery of the forces of the sea can be attained by but one thing—perfection. Even perfection of design—if the French engineers have actually attained it—would be rendered meaningless by any imperfection of execution. And when absolute perfection is attained, man is no longer man, but a superman and an elder brother to the gods.

The Public Domain

San Bernardino Sun.
According to recent announcement from the interior Department, "the last acre of the public domain of the United States will have been allocated by 1933." This has reference to that part of the public domain subject to entry or purchase under the homestead, mining and other laws. There are vast areas owned by the Government which will not be disposed of by 1933 nor by 1983.

But even with this restricted significance of the announcement, there will be many visionaries who will throw up their hands in horror at what they will construe to be a giving away of the public domain. You can find a lot of half-wits who lie awake nights to worry about the passing of the buffalo, as though it were better to have a few thousand wild buffaloes scattered over the prairies of the Middle West than to have the splendid herds of highbred Jerseys, Holsteins, Shorthorns, Herefords, etc. You can find a lot of people long on talk and short on reason who bewail the grant of land to help build some of the transcontinental railroads, notwithstanding the indisputable fact that the settlement of the land and the production of crops could not have been accomplished so quickly and satisfactorily by any other method. These people will throw a fit when they read the announcement that the public domain is passing. They will not see the endless miles of waving grain, the hundreds of thousands of happy homes, the prosperous villages and cities in the agricultural regions, or the long trains of produce rolling in endless course from the inland empire to the sea.

But the world will move on regardless of the walling of impractical people who never cleared a farm of stumps, never built a mile of railroad, never produced a crop, never did anything but view with alarm the progress of their neighbors. The public domain is passing—joy be. The people have found homes, most of them have been able to live on their homesteads until they could be made productive, and, under our form of government, the individuals who made idle land productive are protected by law in the enjoyment of their rights of property. All this could not have been accomplished under a despotism such as that which exists in Russia today.

Eat More Farm Produce

Long Beach Press.
The American people can and should increase their consumption of nearly all farm products at least 50 per cent and can and should double their consumption of many products, is the rather startling assertion of Benjamin C. Marsh, managing director of the Farmers' National Council. The people are gradually reducing the volume of consumption of many staple farm products, according to Mr. Marsh. As to wheat, for example: Domestic per capita consumption of this cereal decreased one-third in one year, from 1919 to 1920. This means a reduced consumption of more than 200,000,000 bushels of wheat per year. The amount of meat consumed also has decreased greatly.

A campaign to induce Americans to eat more of the produce of their farms would be in order, it would seem. There would be both health and economy in this. The most nutritious foods are those which come from the soil.

By increasing the consumption of farm products, the farmer would be encouraged to produce more, and increased production would tend to keep prices moderate for the consumer, and yet remunerative for the farmer.

Politics and Business

Fresno Republican.
The frequent complaint of Business against Politics about interference is supported by facts. Politics frequently enough interfere with Business.

And yet it is a complaint without cure, even though we may find amelioration.

We can prevent politics ruining business. We cannot prevent politics interfering with business. Why?

Because we want politics to interfere with business.

Not a "business man" but, if you probe his opinions, wants frequent interference with business. He deprecates "interference" when it does things he does not like. But he finds, every day, that public action accomplishes things he wants done, or he feels that it should accomplish things he wants done.

We must keep after "politics" to see that it does what we want it to do.

If we stand off and let politics do what it pleases, it will frequently enough displease us.

It will displease some or other of us, no matter what we do.

But we at least will have a pleasanter sense of accomplishment and of fair treatment, if we take part in it.

Having an Endurance Test of His Own

Way to Meet Criticism

Kansas City Star

"Stop complaining about your rights and produce the goods." That advice of a negro leader to certain members of his race ought to have a general application in America today. All around there has come to be too much assertion about rights, privileges; too much self-consciousness of separate races or classes; too much fear that somebody is going to be oppressive; too much of the feeling that somebody is being persecuted, entirely too much of an appeal to and display of prejudices and petty emotions.

The condition is unwholesome for the individual, the race and the nation. It produces nothing but more of its kind, more of pettiness, strife, hatred, friction and above all a waste of time and energy that might well be put to profitable use. No one is more pitiable, and futile, than the individual who constantly goes about with a feeling that he is oppressed and down-trodden. No one is more despicable and useless than the person who struts around with a chip on his shoulder, apparently fearful that somebody will fail to recognize his status, and continually asserting his superiority and his right for the rights of his kind.

What sense is there in the whole procedure? Isn't it about time that a lot of us in America should become heartily ashamed of ourselves and settle down to some helpful task? The really busy persons who are doing the work of the world today have no time for all this pettiness about equality, rights, oppression or superiority; such persons have had no time for it in the past, and we have them to thank for the nation their broader ideas and ceaseless efforts have built for us.

The only effective reply to an individual or a race to unjust criticism or discrimination is so to act as to confute the critic.

HOUSES

All the little houses along the village street,
All the window squares of yellow light.
To each door a path, worn by friendly eager feet
Hurry home before the winter night.

Houses gay with noise and fun, houses dim with pain.

Houses where the children run and shout,
A new house where the bride and groom have built beside a lane;
An old house with a thorny hedge about.

Daytimes men may go abroad, children go to school.

The wife fares forth with basket on her arm.
But dusk means time to lay aside each game or book or tool

And gather 'neath the home roof, safe from harm.

All the little houses along the village street,
All the window squares of yellow light,
And I, a stranger, pass each door with unfamiliar feet

As falls the chill and lonely winter night.

And is there, then, no house for me,
No matter, Lord, how small it be?

Last nite pop was smoking and thinking and ma sed, Willyum, I hawt a muffer for you wile I was down town this afternoon.

O, did you, I can use a muffer, wat color is it? pop sed.

Well, its not a plane color, its not one of these very quiet muffers, if you know wat I mean, ma sed. Its a bewittill thing and id of bawt it for myself, but it cost 7 dollars and 50 cents and I wouldnt spend that much on myself.

For a muffer but I didnt think it was too much for you, she sed. You flatter me, wat color, did you say it was? pop sed.

Well, thats hard to anser, you couldnt exactly call it a conservative effect, ma sed.

I gather that, but it must have some colors in it, pop sed.

O, it has, thats just wat it has, ma sed. Its blue with a back-ground of green and then theres some red and a touch of black and possibly a little orindge, she sed. Im not sure weather theres eny wite in it or not, she sed.

It duzzent matter, theres seems to be quite enuff to hold the eye as it is, you dont suppose for a half a second that id wawk er-round with a thing like that, do you? pop sed.

Well of course I know youre partial to plane colors but this muffer is reely an exception, ma sed. It sounds like one from your discription, yee gods, pop sed.

Well, if you absolutely refuse to ware it ill haff to ware it myself, ma sed.

IN THE LONG AGO

From the Register Files

APRIL 26, 1909
Reyes Molino was pounded to death last night with a rock and his body left on the Santa Fe tracks between Seventeenth and Santa Clara. Bearlier in the evening Luis Manzo was wounded by Leonard Garcia, who with his father is being sought by officers in connection with Molino's murder. There has been a feud in progress between the Molino and Garcia factions. Ferd Prince saw two men last night at the place where Molino was found.

Picking on the Dancing Janes

Columbia (Mo.) Tribune

"The dancing pair that simply sought renown. By holding out to tire each other down."

—Deserted Village.

It seems even in Oliver Goldsmith's time there were dancing tools and silly pates along Terpsichorean lines. So the long-distance dancing belt was sought after over 175 years ago and is no new thing after all. It's like many other fads and fancies that died of old age and have had a renaissance into another cycle of foolishness. The main difference is that in the old Irish poet's time there were no telegraph lines to carry the news as to how long some "Janes" "twinkling feet" functioned and how many swains she whined in the miles upon miles that she tripped the "light fantastic foot" and thus induce other Janes across the continent who were some dog and camel walkers themselves to emulate her feat and go after a few hours and a few miles better in the endurance test. Chicken soup, it has been discovered, is the best sustenance for these long distance lassies during one of these highly important and utilitarian contests. Whether there is any relation between the fowl that bears the same name has not yet been determined. This will have to be finally dispensed of, we suppose, by the erudite search of Dr. Einstein and Dr. Thomas Jefferson Jackson See with the two scientists in opposite corners of the ring. Chocolate, which seemed to sustain our boys in France to a remarkable degree, has not yet been tried, and as both a "chicken" and chocolate have a saccharine quality in common, there must be some relativity between this food and those who trip it as they go. Another problem for Drs. Einstein and See. At any rate in arriving at the maximum endurance of which the above-mentioned dog and camel walkers are capable of the old standby, chocolate, should be given a chance. Mr. Hershey and Mr. Peters and the other chocolate manufacturers will lose a fine opportunity to advertise their wares if they overlook this test as to the wind and stamina properties of their product.

Some mayors and some police departments have allowed their gorges to rise on account of this new-old evidence of bats in the belfry, and have chased the contestants all over New York and other cities in efforts to stop what to telegraph lines to carry the news of the constitution or some one of the amendments thereto. What particular part of the immortal American Magna Charta the girls and boys are violating has not yet been pointed out, but they feel intuitively that it is some infraction of the rights to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. For the life of us, though, we can't see how being back to back, it is any infraction of the sacred rights of other people. If the girls want to dance from Beersheba to the Dan and from "hell to Hanover" and train on chicken soup, we can't divine whose business it is so long as they pay their hall rent and can obtain hefty boys to carry them along, for it is we suppose, by the erudite search of Dr. Einstein and Dr. Thomas Jefferson Jackson See with the two scientists in opposite corners of the ring. Chocolate, which seemed to sustain our boys in France to a remarkable degree, has not yet been tried, and as both a "chicken" and chocolate have a saccharine quality in common, there must be some relativity between this food and those who trip it as they go. Another problem for Drs. Einstein and See. At any rate in arriving at the maximum endurance of something.

Possessions

By Berton Braley

Much time and toil I've given for The things that I have striven for, My car, my clothes, the little cash I own.

Possessions not imperial But solid and material, Which give to life a certain dulcet tone.

I like to have and use them all And yet if I should lose them all, Still I could smile and watch my wealth depart.

Let worldly chattels stray from me, But, Fate, don't take away from me.

The little dreams deep hidden in my heart!

Oh, poverty's no joke at all, I don't like being broke at all, I'm very fond of comfort and of ease;

I dread their loss most fearfully, Yet I could bear it cheerfully And start again to earn them by degrees.

Life's pretty bleak and bare without To one who lacks the wherewithal, I know, because I've often made the test:

But not a wail you'll catch from me, If fortune doesn't snatch from me The little dreams deep hidden in my breast.

Health Notes

MUST WATCH PUBLICITY

In the race for sensational and profitable publicity, many half truths and some falsehoods concerning the treatment of disease are rushed hurriedly into print. Not only do these cause much disappointment and useless expenditure of money, but they also tend to make people skeptical of the more modest claims of real achievements.

The new anesthetic, ethylene, discovered in 1918 at the University of Chicago is proving to be a valuable "addition" to treatment which may eventually have wide applicability in surgery and obstetrics.

The Wassermann test for tuberculosis is still experimental and it is as yet impossible with the data at hand to make definite statements as to its possibilities, which concern only recognition of the disease in an early stage and offer no advance in methods of treatment.

The much advertised attempt to transplant a pig's eye to a human being turns out to have been merely an attempt to transplant the front layer of the eye, the cornea, the success of which, like that of many similar attempts in the past, is, to say the least, very doubtful.

SCRIPTURE

And this is the condemnation, that light is come into the world, and men loved darkness rather than light because their deeds were evil.—St. John 3:18.

O peace; thou source and soul of social life; Best thou whose calm inspiring influence Science his views enlarges, Art refined, A n d swelling Commerce opens all her ports; Blessed be the man divine, who gives us thee! —Thomson.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

by Olive Roberts Barton

NO. 13—NANCY RESCUES NICK

Nancy flew away in her airplane to look for Nick.

She flew right over Bing-Bang Land and all the Bing-Bang Landers cried out, "There goes another of those queer birds like we saw a little while ago."

Soon she came to the place where the tin soldier camp was. She remembered what the Tinker Man had told her and flew very high so that none of them could shoot at her.

When she was right over the army, she reached for a gas bomb and dropped it. It was only a sleeping gas bomb really.

Then she leaned out and watched to see what would happen. Fdd!

She heard the bomb hit the ground and burst.

Almost instantly General Hobbledell fell over on the ground, snoring.

Then Colonel Butterflop fell over, and Major Straight Back and Captain Bow Legs and Lieutenant

Shiny Boots all fell over, sound asleep.

Then the private soldiers and machine gunners and cavalry dropped over.

"Now is my chance!" said Nancy to herself.

So she brought her airplane down to the ground and tiptoed softly over to the prison.

There was Nick looking out between the bars of the window.

"Quick!" he cried when he saw her. "The guard there has the key."

Nancy carefully took the key from the sleeping soldier and unlocked the door.

Not only Nick but all the wooden soldier prisoners were free at last.

"Oh, thank you!" they said. "We're ever so much obliged."

And they marched back to their own army.
